Twenty - Five Years and Still Going !

Liberty High School has been around for one-fourth of a century. The high school is celebrating this honor by making a special yearbook. The theme of this yearbook is "Then and Now."

There are many pictures from the year 1965, and they are in with the 1990 pictures. Most of the pictures from 1965 include teachers, students, and the things that happened back then.

This yearbook shows that many things have changed and that many things have remained the same. The hairstyles are different, prices are different, the clothes are different, and looks in general are different. The things that have not changed are the potential of the students and the spirit of most students.

The most popular songs in 1965 were "Turn! Turn! Turn!," "What the World Needs Now," "My Girl," and "Yesterday." Some popular songs for 1990 were "Bust a Move," "Escapade," "Don't Know Much," and "Angel Eyes."

Deka club officers, Angela Jones and Kevin Miller, are eating it up at Charley's.

Carey Orange is showing his spirit by coming to Liberty High's basketball game.

Laura Arrington is giving it her all in the Miss Liberty High School contest.

Gory Anderson and Jenny Wingfield look very confused while on a trip with EGP club.

Pamela Hurt enjoys cooking in her life management class.

Denise Howard and Melinda Burger are cheering the crowd on.

Student Life

Well, Things haven't changed much have they? Byron Smith, Kirk Fisher, Shirley Grouch, Mike Dill, Katrina Jones, And Sheila Porter, all students of 1990, discover studying can be fun with friends just as the students of 1965 discovered.

AH, THIS ISN'T HALF BAD!
As students quickly discover, studying can be fun when tempered with the warmth of a spring sun and the companionship of good friends. The patio of the cafeteria is a popular gathering place.

Students Show Character

Back in 1965, Liberty and Bedford joined together as Liberty high school. Since the school was first built, we've added some changes including the Math/Science building built in 1988.

Many things have changed since 1965, and those changes range from fashion to entertainment. Girls' hairstyles have gotten longer and shorter with outrageous style. The clothes our students wear is more relaxed than wearing ties and penny loafers like they used to. As styles change, so does music. Songs such as "Turn, Turn, Turn," "I Got You Babe," and "Hang on Sloopy" were listened to while today's teens listen to a range of songs from Milli Vanilli to Randy Travis.

For entertainment, teenagers would go to "sock hops" and really take their shoes off while at today's dances, they dance to the "Electric Slide." Another issue involving students is the fact that not many of them had cars in 1965 while today our parking lot space is filled up.

The past 25 years here at Liberty have been great, and we're looking forward to another great 25 years ahead of us!

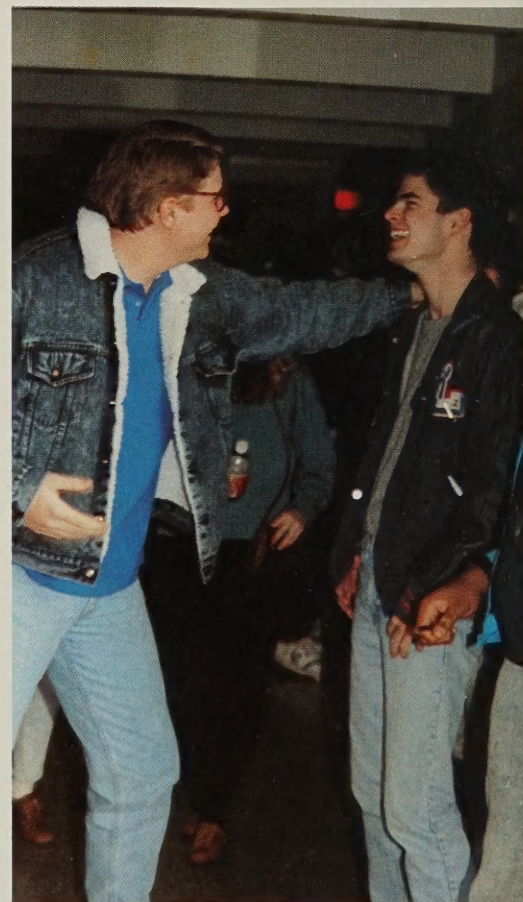

During halftime at one of our many football games, the crowd yells for the cheerleaders to throw them footballs. This particular crowd has a lot of spirit.

Sariff Stewart and Laurel Fauber find something interesting while working on their assignment.

Robert Lamano and Melinda Burger goof around during lunch.

Jamey Crawford laughs hysterically at something Patrick McNeace just told him. He must have told him another joke.

Jennifer Holt displays her true Liberty spirit.

As most of us do in the mornings, Jim Booth and Xavier Patterson stand around and talk with friends.

"What's this?" Butch Dreany asks as Mike Norton stares off into space at the girl's basketball tournament.

Matt Neal and David Goff look pretty amused about the ties and bandanas everyone wore to the game. Our crowd showed their spirit during the girl's basketball tournament by dressing as they did in this picture.

“What’s Happen’n!”

Here at Liberty High School, the students are bright and full of energy at all times just like in 1965. Things haven’t changed much except for the different styles and fashions worn by the students. Students still use the same lockers and still attend some of the same classes and always still manage to get into a little trouble here and there.

Every year there is a little difference such as the different groups of students that hang around one another and the different activities that are done each year.

Every year at LHS we have different activities like pep rallies, dances, clubs, and spirit days. Every year we always have something really exciting to do.

Here on these two pages, you can see only a glimpse of our student life from the year 1989/90. There is so much that is always happening that it is impossible to fit it on only two pages.

Here are pictures of some of the things that happened this past year. Take a close look at the way fashion has changed from 1965 to 1990

During the pep rally, Gary Orange seems to enjoy painting Audra Saul’s face David Bennett slips his books into his locker as he gets prepared for his next class.

Angelia Isenhour and Amy Hutson pose in disguise with their outrageous Halloween costumes.

Kathy Payne and Tabatha Dawson are all dressed up because it's Homecoming night, and there is a special dance being held at Liberty High. Take a look at the different outfits as they dance the night away.

Jenny Wingfield works hard and seriously as she types her assignment.

Michelle Andrews and Nicole Keltz look at one another with darling eyes, as if they were both sweet and innocent.

Changes

As time goes by, many things change, but the more things change, the more they seem to stay the same. Schools of yesterday and today have proms, dances, and homecomings every year. Fads, students, and teachers come and go, but Liberty looks almost the same today as it did yesterday. Thousands of students have entered and graduated from Liberty over the years. Each goes on to experience life, but all remember that part of their life that was lived here. From generation to generation, Liberty history goes on.

Robbie Thompson and Sonya Pendleton show their spirit on sunglasses day. Ray Brawley seems unaffected by the commotion around him

Jim Booth and Tabatha Garter seem to be working hard in Mr. Reedy's class.

Joyce Kasey and Brenda Lowry play around in gym. "Isn't life wonderful!" exclaims Joyce.

Jennifer Guiliams listens attentively to Coach Craig's explanation.

Laura Mitchell, Laurel Fauber, and Brenda Lowry raise Liberty's spirit at a basketball game.

Robin' Every Minute!

Liberty High School has been around for twenty-five years. During that twenty-five year history, There has been a long line of love. Walking down the halls of Liberty High School has always been like walking down "Lover's Lane." Couples would stand in the corners, noses nearly touching and gazing into one another's eyes. Other couples walk hand in hand to each other's lockers. Each took turns at being tardy to the next class. Many of the couples work hard at arranging schedules to have classes together. This was great until they broke up and were stuck in the same class for the rest of the year together.

Some couples would go on to marriage, while most felt 'twas "better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all."

Don't you think Eric Collins and Stephanie Bays get along well?

Jimmy Nester cuddles with his girlfriend, Tracy Ruff, in the halls of "A" building.

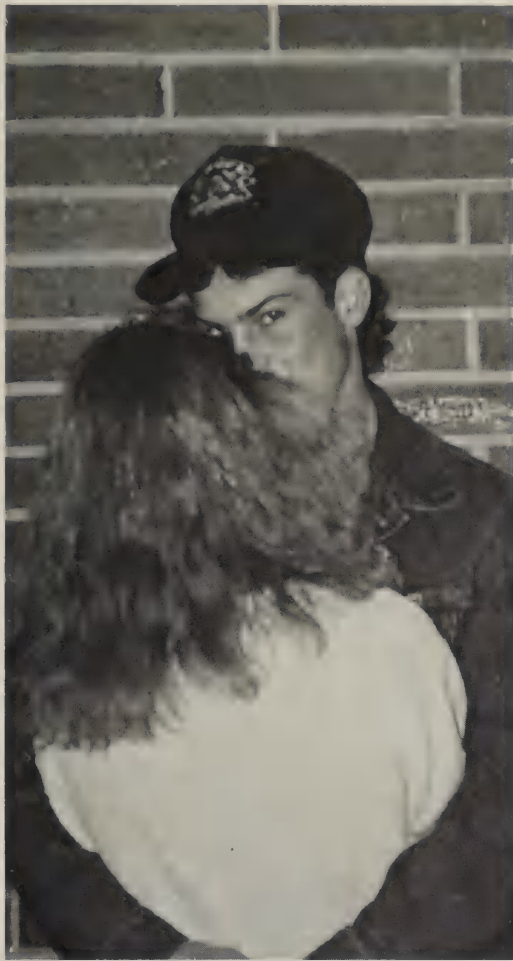

Eric Martin and Sandra Horst love to play follow the leader.

Check out all the flowers for the sweethearts on Valentine's Day.

Spirit of the '90's

This past year was one of the best years to show off spirit. During the pep rallies, each class had a chance to show how much spirit they had. Cheerleaders led chants with the student body in order for everyone to get pepped up. The loudness of each individual class was judged and the choice was hard. At first the seniors seemed to have won it, but the juniors pulled ahead. Finally the decision was made. The juniors had won the spirit yell.

We also showed a lot of spirit when time came around for the charity dance for the Ronald McDonald House. Liberty students raised over one thousand dollars from everything they did for the dance. For one whole week, the class representatives carried a jar around to raise money. One penny per vote. The theme was the "Lone Ranger and Tonto" dance. The freshmen representatives were Matt Hogan and Kelly Witt. The sophomore representatives were Patrick Patterson and Melissa Abbott. The Junior representatives were Biff Sisco and Heather Bivona. The senior representatives were David Craun and Kelly Lam. The real Lone Ranger and Tonto were seniors David Craun and Kelly Lam.

The varsity and junior varsity boy's basketball cheerleaders know how to show their spirit off. Here they are doing a spirit stunt at a pep rally.

Here Jackie Hall shows off her skills in doing the electric slide at a pep rally.

The yearbook staff gave Mrs. Snider a going away party. We sure do miss her!

Looks like Hedron Doolittle is enjoying herself while doing the electric slide.

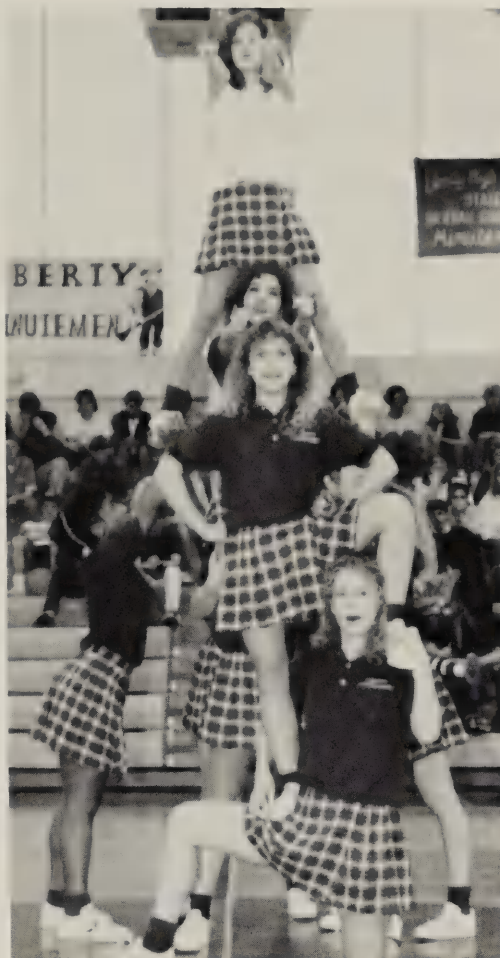

Mrs. Wray's first period is just one of the first periods that participated in the yearbook's door decorating contest.

The varsity boy's basketball cheerleaders sure know how to show their spirit during the pep rally.

Ms. Waldron is just one of the ones who have personalized license plates.

Tracy Brotherton shows off to the public who her favorite university is. Wonder if she plans to go there.

Larry Dowdy, Kellay Church, and Eric Summers break from their interesting conversation to give the camera person their beautiful smiles.

Looks like David Graun, Sarif Stewart, Mike Jarrell, and Jamie Crawford are a little embarrassed standing in a dress

Melissa Abbott is having the time of her life getting wrapped up in toilet paper.

Looks as if this person doesn't know where they're going or what on earth they're doing.

Either Mr. Carlson is trying out for Mr. LHS or this is what he wears to dissect his chicken.

David Graun is hot stuff dressed in his fashionable dress for the title of Mr. LHS.

School Spirit

Butch Dreany is waiting his turn to talk to Eric Summers from K-92.

Ricky Baldwin and Jeffrey Grant show their school spirit with bandanas wrapped around their heads.

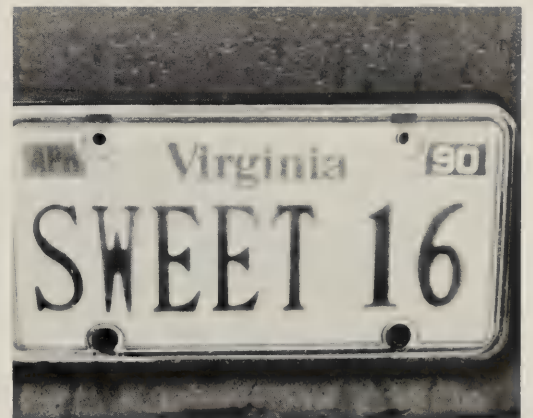

Having school spirit is the best way for all the students to get together and do something wild and fun. They are able to do the things that are somewhat embarrassing but really turn out to be funny and stupid.

The best thing of all is when the students have the Mr. LHS contest. This is when the students dress up guys to see who is the best looking guy/girl in the contest.. The Mr. LHS contest is held during the most famous pep rally of them all. This is when all the students crowd around in the gym to cheer for their class.

During the pep rally, some of the students get wrapped in toilet paper. They also get food thrown at them.

The school spirit days are the best time of the school year

Kellay Church, Billy Toms, and Timothy Snow are ready to face the summer's sun with their sun glasses.

Renee Layne's license plates are a reminder that 16 was sweet.

Sheila Porter, Katrina Jones, Melinda Reaves, Julie Arrington, and Alycia Barret are having fun doing their bulletin board.

"Raining" Queen

Anticipation filled the air as the halftime show began. There were lights, cameras, and plenty of action. Eight ladies dazzled the audience with their charm and beauty, but only one could walk away with the title Homecoming Queen of Liberty High School 1989.

Members of the court and the escorts were as follows: The freshmen representative was Stacy Burton along with escort Matt Wilkerson; sophomore representative was Melissa Abbott with escort Jason Kent; junior representatives were Cindy Collier with escort Kerry Hogan and Kristy Arrington with escort Eric Martin. Finally, the four senior representatives were Shelly Foster, escorted by Chad Parker; Angela Key, escorted by Robert Lamano; Tohnya Zinn, escorted by Jeff Grant; and Audra Saul whose escort was Carey Orange.

The rain was falling and patience was growing thin. As most ladies stood under their umbrellas and waited, others fought with the rain. Finally, the moment had arrived. "Maid of Honor..... Shelly Foster!" Congratulations! "And now, Homecoming Queen, 1989..... Renee Zinn!" Way to go Renee!

As the night intensifies, Robert Lamano, Angela Key, Kerry Hogan, Cindy Collier, Jason Kent, and Melissa Abbott become impatient.

Junior representative was Kristy Arrington, and her escort was Eric Martin.

Stacy Burton and Matt Wilkerson look to see who the new queen is.

Cindy Collier and escort Kerry Hogan make the best of the rain.

Shelly Foster, with escort Chad Parker, graciously accepts the roses from Wendy Arrington as she is named Maid of Honor.

Mr. Worrell keeps the flowers out of the rain until time for their presentation.

It is one of her most exciting moments as Renee Zinn is crowned Homecoming Queen.

Victory of Homecoming

With the playing of the National Anthem and the kick - off, Homecoming night began with a big bang even though on the night of September 25, 1989, the weather was rainy and cold. That didn't keep our Minutemen from defeating the Gretna Hawks. The score of the Homecoming game was Liberty 32, Gretna 0.

On the opening kick - off, we sent the ball to Gretna. Mike Dooley and Ray Brawley created a fumble and Ray fell on the ball. Mike Jarrel threw for 133 yards, and to add to the offensive attack Ray Brawley carried the ball for 80 yards. On the defensive side, Eric Lowry, Ricky Baldwin, Brian Baker, and Sean Dooley were the leading tacklers in the victory over Gretna.

Mike Orange starts the excitement by destroying the minutemen hoop.

Despite the rain and mud, Patrick McNeace seems to be having fun at the game.

Jennifer Holt and Melissa Stafford find time to get a quick sip of Coke before cheering the Minutemen on.

Shower Me With Your Love

Sheronda Bryant, Mark Hilber, and Brenda Lowry look like they can dance all night.

The 1989 - 90 theme for Homecoming was "Shower Me With Your Love," and what a perfect theme it was. The evening of September 23, 1989 was cold and rainy outside. Even so, the evening went pretty nearly perfectly for most couples.

The dance started with the electric slide. Almost half of the people there participated. The D.J. for the Homecoming dance was Robbie Creasy. He played many popular hits from Ton Loc to Milli Vanilli.

At the dance, Mrs. Key sponsored drawings for prizes. Many prizes were won such as a free haircut from Colonial Styling Salon and a free pizza from Sal's.

Kevin St. Clair wonders if Rene Tabura thinks that this is a hug or a slow dance.

Tabatha Dawson and Kevin Miller lead the dance into the electric slide.

Celebrate...

COn the evening of November 10, 1989, the Miss LHS pageant was held. The theme, Celebrate This, was the beginning of the 25th anniversary pageant. The contestants began practice 3 weeks before the pageant. The girls worked hard in preparing their talent and the act they performed at the beginning of the pageant.

The evening began by introducing the contestants. They, then, told a little about themselves such as their hobbies and plans for the future. The talent competition began with Janie Arrington dancing to "Cold - Hearted Snake." "Everywhere I Go" was sung by Jessica Key. Debbie Steen played "Allegro" on the piano. Shelley Craig recited a short story called "A Backwoods Beast" that she wrote herself. Kathy Johnson danced to "On Our Own." "Come See About Me" was sung by Heather Bivona. Nicki Sherman performed a Russian dance, and Elizabeth Bennett performed "Please God, I'm Only Seventeen." Wendy Thomas performed "The Varsity Drag" and the "Charleston" on the clarinet. "Right Here Waiting" was performed on the piano by Jennifer Holt. Brenda Lowry danced to "That Want Money," and Joyce Kasey presented her version of a scene from "Saint John." Melissa Stafford danced to "Control," and "Walking After Midnight" was sung by Angela Key. "Sing Your Praise to the Lord" was played on the piano by Carolyn Craun, and Laura Arrington sang "Diamonds are a Girl's Best Friend." "Boogie, Woogie Bugle Boy" was played on the clarinet by Tohnya DeLong. Everyone's talent was extraordinary.

For the evening gown competition, the ladies were escorted on to the stage and then given a rose by their escorts. The escorts were Chad Eckart, Ricky Baldwin, and Sarif Stewart.

The five finalists were Brenda Lowry, Nicki Sherman, Elizabeth Bennett, Angela Key, and Melissa Stafford. Mr. Leftwich asked each of the five finalists a question such as, "What would you do if your best friend was drunk and was going to drive?"

Angela Key seems happy to have won the pageant. She had been in this pageant the previous three years. This time, she won it all.

Sarif Stewart escorts Janie Arrington out onto the stage. She will be performing a dance to the song, "Cold - Hearted Snake."

25 Years

The judges were sent away to make their decision. The pageant had come to the end. It was now time to find out who the next Miss LHS would be. The fourth runner - up was Melissa Stafford. Third place went to Nicki Sherman, and second place was Elizabeth Bennett. The first runner - up was Brenda Lowry. Finally the new Miss LHS crown was handed over to Angela Key. During the weeks of practice, an award for the spirit of Liberty was given to Laura Arrington. The evening ended with tears of joy and celebration.

These are the finalists: Nicki Sherman, third runner - up; Elizabeth Bennett, second runner - up; Angela Key, the new Miss LHS; Brenda Lowry, first runner - up; and Melissa Stafford, fourth runner - up.

Brenda Lowry shows her stuff as she dances to the song, "That Want Money."

Is Marilyn Monroe or Laura Arrington?

Carolyn Graun is thrilled to sit still as Tracy Mitchell fixes her hair.

Rodney Orange loves to count the money at the 297 Minute Market.

Wendy Thomas has a smile on her face as she straightens the shelves at Green's Drug Store.

Mimi Hamilton is smiling because she's got it made working in the snack bar at Walmart.

Jenny Stevens looks quite busy ringing out her customers in lane 5 at Walmart.

Working Hard To...

Lani Johnson is trying to do her good deed of the day by helping Shirley Grouch check out a customer.

What's this? Is Troy Brawley taking a break, or is he really just hiding in the break room at Rose's?

This year's juniors and seniors have been working hard to earn money and meet responsibilities. They're earning that extra money to be able to do and buy the things that they want and need. By having a job, the students are able to do the things that they enjoy doing the most.

Some of the things that students enjoy doing with their hard earned cash is spending it on the weekends while hanging out with friends.

Others try to earn their money to buy the car of their dreams so that they can cruise around without cruising with their parents.

But one of the biggest reasons for the seniors saving their money is to have a lot of spending money when they plan their trip to the beach at the end of the year.

Stephanie Bays looks more like she's day dreaming and not doing her work at the One Price Store.

Tessa Dooley looks as if she's really working hard straightening the ladies' wear department at Walmart. The customers appreciate being able to more easily find what they want.

Brandon Long is working hard putting up cans of milk on the shelf at Winn-Dixie.

Erica Hawkins is having it easy tonight. She's only got one customer in her line.

Amy Hutson is trying to hurry and finish with her customer because it's close to closing time.

Amy Stump looks like a real professional carrying out a pizza to her customers and hoping for a tip.

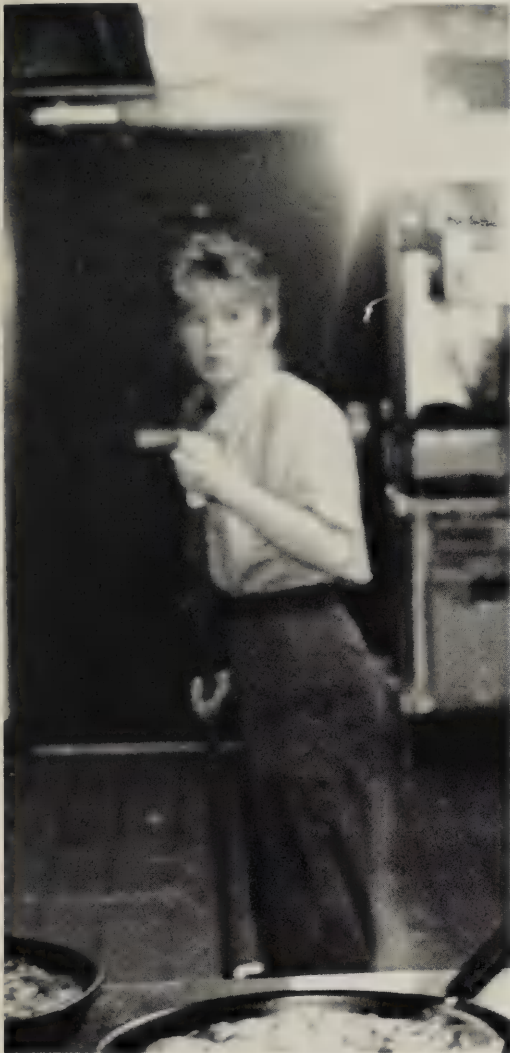

Heather Hubbard is trying to sneak a peek at the phone numbers to see who she can call next.

Earn Money

Loretta Stanley looks like she's working hard trying to sweep the floors at Pizza Hut.

Tracy Howell looks like she's up to something when we caught her red handed at the service desk.

Having a job gives the students a sense of responsibility for when they go out into the real world to find the career of their choice. Having a job gives them the chance to get to know people and to have to deal with the public.

Having a job is not only just work; it is a lot of fun, especially when they get paid.

Cindy Toms Tries to show everyone that she can scan an item with her eyes closed.

Melinda Cassidy looks as if she's having the time of her life washing the counter at Rose's, but she's really just doing it so she can talk to Tanya Lacy.

Charlie Collier is working hard bagging another customer's groceries at Food Lion.

A Merry Christmas

Christmas was an active time for students. Clubs participated in Christmas projects at school. The students enjoyed the time off from school during the holiday. The SCA sponsored the annual Christmas door decorating contest again this year. Mrs. Wray won the contest for "C" building. Mrs. Lohr won for "A" building. The winners of the SCA door decorating contest won a Christmas party.

Cheerleaders, band members, flag and rifle teams crowded the streets of Bedford for the annual Christmas parade. All the groups who took part in the parade did a wonderful job.

Ben Puckett, Eric Carlson, Brenda Lowry, and Elizabeth Bennett wave at all their admirers during the parade.

The News Today

Disasters, we never expect them, but they do happen. They happen at the most inopportune times. The cause extreme amounts of damage and destruction. Sometimes you are lucky and survive them, but other times you're not. Many people are hospitalized from the severe damage made. Many have lost their lives, homes and everything they own due to tornados, hurricanes, and earthquakes. But these occurrences will not stop. You need to try to be prepared for such events because it could happen to you.

Hurricane Hugo swept through the Caribbean and slowly made its way to the coast of the United States. It hit Charleston, S.C. Where the 135 mph winds caused billions of dollars damage.

At 5:04 P.M. on October 17, an earthquake destroyed parts of Oakland and San Francisco and surrounding areas. More than sixty were killed. Hundreds were injured and the damage topped $2 billion.

A gathering of political protesters ended in a massacre in Tiananmen Square in Beijing. Thousands were killed and wounded by government soldiers.

The Alaskan oil spill occurred on March 24, 1989. A total of 11 million gallons of crude oil covered the area and created an environmental nightmare.

President George Bush took office after defeating Gov. Michael Dukakis in the November 1988 elections.

Mikhail Gorbachev instituted liberal reforms in Russia.

William Bennett wants to extend the concept of drug-free schools nationally and make punishment a fact of life for drug dealers.

Dan Quayle took office when chosen by President George Bush in 1988.

William Bennett wants to extend the concept of drug-free schools nationally and make punishment a fact of life for drug dealers.

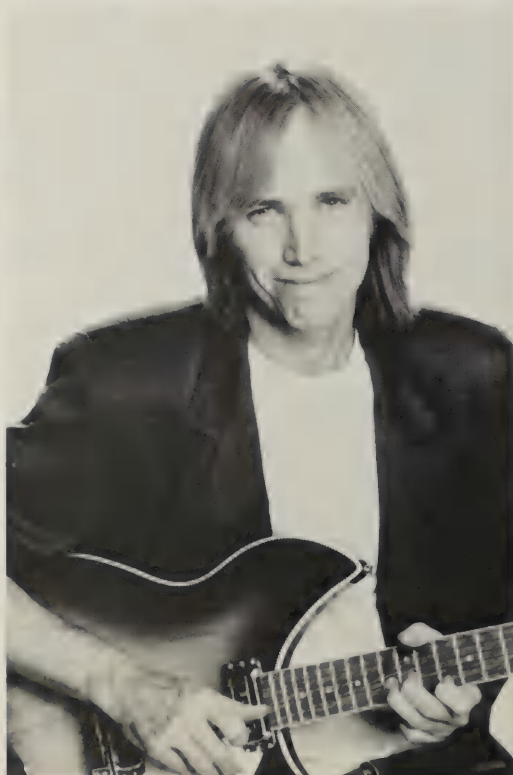

Expose has exploded on the scene. This all female group hit the charts as soon as they hit the stage.

Paula Abdul got her start teaching groups how to dance. She is now topping the charts herself as a singer giving her former students a run for their money.

Milli Vanilli hit the United States with their first two singles on top of the charts, and they're even better now.

Rock'n Roll has always meant the unexpected for Tom Petty. Now his album, "Full Moon Fever," is a smash hit.

Reba McEntire is the reigning queen of country music. She really is a pure country vocalist.

Entertainment

Bobby McFerrin creates a sound unlike any other. But "Don't Worry, Be Happy" has already won four awards.

Arsenio Hall starred in the film "Coming to America" and later started his own television show.

At the Grammy Awards this year, the music and movie industry hit it big. When the entertainers went to accept their grammies, it was so quiet you could hear a pin drop. Everyone was proud of their accomplishments.

The sit-coms made you laugh while putting a serious point across at the same time. The movies this past year were a huge success; anything from cartoons to romances to adventure.

The different types of music; rock, country, and rap; echoed everywhere. It looks like the entertainment world hit it big this year and is here to stay.

Roseanne Barr and John Goodman joined together to star in "Roseanne," a show about a middle class family.

"Batman" was the movie hit of the year, producing over $200 million in revenue.

The Trip

The day finally arrived for us to leave for Wallops Island. The morning was dark and cold at Liberty. At first it was hard to get comfortable, but then we started lying on the floors and put all of our stuff piled in the back of the bus. As we pulled up to our dorms, all we saw were mosquitos, and everyone reached for the "Off" which became our best friend.

At Wallops Island, we broke up into groups so that everybody got a chance to take part in the experiments. Some got to see things they had never seen before such as the Chinquateague horses that we always heard about. We also got to see the different life forms that exist in Tom's Cove by dragging a net on the bottom floor. Most teams caught blue crabs, plumed worms, spot, blue fish, and much more. We also tested the water which was very interesting to most of us. We also visited the salt marshes where we found a shrew.

On the fun side, the Liberty group had parties every night and invited the kids from the other schools. This way everyone met everyone else. All in all, the trip was great. Everyone had a great time and would probably go back if they had the chance.

This is the group of seniors who went on the Wallops Island trip.

"Little Shop of Horrors"

The setting of the school play this year was a flower shop on skid row. There, kids didn't go to school. There, too, is where all the trouble started. There, in the small dusty, flower sop on skid row.

The play was "Little Shop of Horrors." The cast and crew members were as follows: Front row: Cherith Bailey, Sean Dooley, Todd Parkhill, Scott McCoy, and Patrick McNeace. Second row: Ray Via, Nichole Thomas, Heather Bivona, Dawn Cherebin, Amy Hutson, and Angie Isenhour. Back row: Dawn Clingenpeel, Emily Beckwith, Mandi Calhoun, Michael Inge, Heather Hale, and Dalerie Brown. People not pictured: Alveta Henderson, Clair McCoy, Mrs. Keister, and Mr. Lavor.

Alveta Henderson, Nichole Thomas, and Dawn Cherebin look serious as they practice.

Heather Bivona did a really good job as Audrey.

From what I've heard everyone say, Patrick McNeace was perfect for the part as Orin, the dentist.

The star of the shop, Audrey II, knew what she wanted, and she got it too!

The part of Orin wasn't supposed to be serious, but Patrick McNeace shows that even he can be serious.

The person behind the plant, Scott McCoy did a great job working the Audrey II!

Wonderful Tonight

Purple, black, and silver streamers flowed from the ceiling. There were big, beautiful, silver stars, a gorgeous moon, a big city, and a magical bridge. You felt like you had walked into a dream when you walked into the prom on May 12, 1990.

The decorations were absolutely enchanting, and all of the people dressed in their best to make the evening perfect and look wonderful that night.

The theme of the prom was "Wonderful Tonight" by Eric Clapton, and what a perfect theme it proved to be all evening. What a wonderful night it was!

The prom court consisted of Travis Pendleton and Malinda Rock, Kirk Fisher and Shirley Crouch, Mike Fuqua and Angela Key, Chad Eckart and Beth Dunman, and Billy Hill and April Carhart. Carey Orange and Tracy Brotherton were crowned prom king and queen. It truly was a "Wonderful Night."

Amy Hutson, Angie Isenhour, and Michelle Andrews take a little time out from their busy schedule decorating the picture room to pose in front of the moon.

Let's Celebrate

On May 28, 1990, a carnival was sponsored by Liberty High School celebrating its 25th anniversary. The carnival lasted from 10:00 to 4:00. Shelly Foster started it with the introduction of the speakers. Pastor Rob Hendren led the invocation. Then the LHS band performed "Overture for Wind" and "Disney Supper Time." Mr. Worrell gave the address of welcome, and delegate Lacey Putney did the address. Angela Key sang "Sweet Dreams" followed by Heather Bivona singing "Come See About Me." Pastor Rob Hendren did the benediction.

Booths were sponsored by many different clubs. DECA had a dunking booth. The FCA had a basketball toss. The SCA sold cups and drinks. JETS had a coin toss. JCL painted people's faces. NHS sold cotton candy. The traffic club sold candy apples. Young astronauts had space games to play. The Spanish club sold nachos. The Collage staff had a t-shirt sale. The weather club had a ping pong ball toss. Tri-Hi-Y sold funnel cakes. FHA had a bake sale. Band boosters had a ring toss, and the yearbook class sold hot dogs and gave away balloons.

Three bands performed. They were Colton Country, a Thousand Circles, and Situations. Between these three bands, great music was provided throughout the entire day.

The carnival ended with an auction. The items that were auctioned off were donated by businesses.

In all the carnival was great fun. Maybe in 25 more years we'll be able to get together and do it again.

Get Down!

Among other activities that students participated in on Friday nights, a good crowd usually showed up at LHS for our dances. There was usually a variety of music so everyone could join in dancing.

This year we had several DJ's, including one from WBLT, WROV, K92. WROV came to our charity dance for the Ronald McDonald House.

Our crowd did all sorts of dancing moves such as the "Electric Slide." A lot of people joined in doing that dance. If they weren't doing that, they danced any way they wanted. Some folks got a little crazy on the dance floor. The dances were fun and sometimes not so fun, but everyone enjoyed themselves. So the next time you're at an LHS dance, don't be shy. Come on out and "get down" with us!

Andy Crawford and Butch Dreany pose for a quick picture as Andy finds something funny off in the distance.

Kevin Miller does the "Electric Slide."

Laurel Fauber and Heather Hylton get down.

Laura Mitchell thinks dancing is fun, and you can tell by the big smile on her face.

David Graun and Denise Howard move to the beat.

Butch Dreany shakes his thing at one of our dances.

Joey Coles and Brad Stevens watch everyone dancing.

Carolyn Graun, Jennifer Beckwith, Heidi Hubbard, Heather Hylton, Lynda Stohr, Julie Arrington, and Alysia Barrett look as if they are having loads of fun!

Memories...

The friends made in high school will be remembered forever.

Do you remember how scared you were when you first came to high school? You had heard from all the other kids how hard high school would be and how many strangers would be there. Well once you got here, you found out it wasn't that bad at all. It was actually fun. You met lots of new friends, and you gained new freedoms. Along with the freedoms came the responsibilities. When eighth grade was over and you became accustomed to everything and everyone, it became better. You joined clubs and received your class ring. Juniors decorated for the biggest dance of the year, the prom. Homecoming courts were nominated and sports were played with enthusiasm. Finally, at graduation, all these things made up your high school years and they have left us all with something to cherish forever. The memories are for all of us to keep in our hearts forever.

The administrators have their favorite memories of each class as well.

David Bobbitt, a presidential scholar, will take some of the most special memories of all with him.

After all the speeches were made and the ceremonies concluded, the memories were sealed.

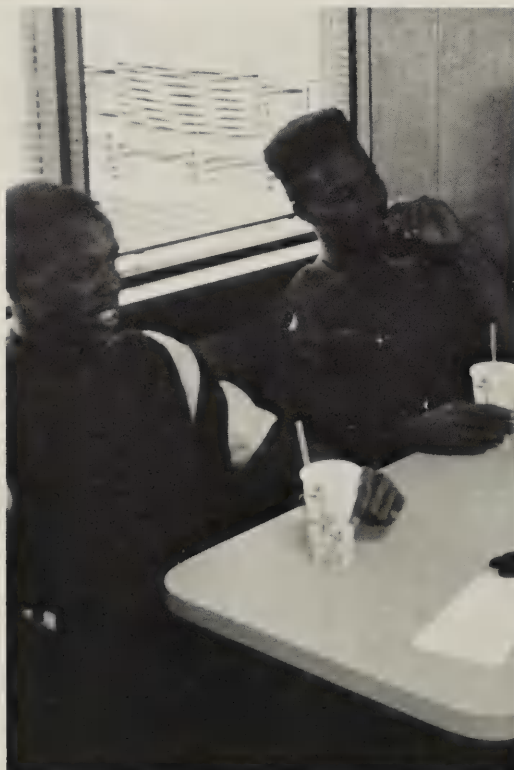

Galvin Bragg and Kirk Fisher enjoy playing pinball on a slow night.

Mike Dill looks confused as he and friends try to decide what to do that night.

Danny Turner talks about going to Lynchburg and is trying to get friends to join him.

Jason Wooldridge is caught leaving home to try to find a good weekend party. Good luck!

Kevin Miller and Chris Pannell decide to grab a bite to eat before they start their weekend.

Spelling Relief

Mike Fuqua looks on as he waits his turn to play pinball.

David Goff takes out the trash at work and hopes he gets off early so he can go party with friends.

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday; do you remember when you barely made it through those days because you were so anxious for the weekend to hurry and get here? Fridays weren't so bad because you knew that in a few short hours your weekend would officially begin!

The most common pastime for teens was to go riding around in town. In town they would meet with their friends. Some teens would go to the local pool hall. Others would take their dates out to eat, to a movie, or to walk around the mall.

Occasionally there was a concert or a party held over the weekend which added an exciting change of pace for teens all around.

Unfortunately for some, a job sometimes had to carry over into the weekend. But even though some had to work, time for having fun and going out with friends was undoubtedly always found!

Many teenagers had many different ideas about how they were going to spend their weekends. They were always thankful for Friday.

Mike Christian wonders if he will do anything at all tonight but is sure that something will come up.

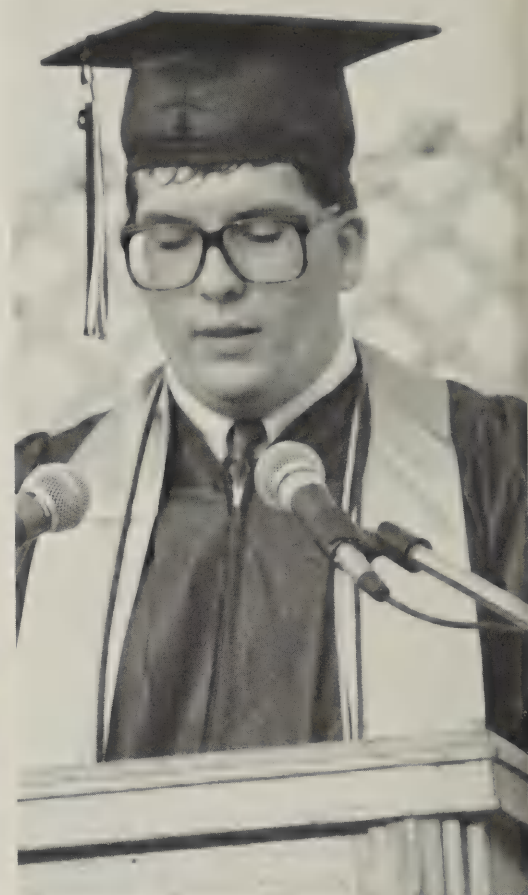

Shirley Crouch, Katrina Jones, and Kim Heptinstall leave school early to get a head start on their weekends.

David Bobbitt concentrates on the speech he has prepared for the senior class.

The class of '90 gets ready to march onto the field.

As you can tell, Brandon Long, Troy Maxfield, and Shawn Maynard are very excited about graduation!

We Made It!

Graduation. It's the end of your high school years and a beginning to the rest of your life. Graduation for the class of '90 was filled with happiness and sadness.

It's always sad to leave a place that you've seen every day for the past four years. It's hard to leave behind the familiar faces, the high school dances, the classes, and the teachers you've come to know so well.

Graduation was also filled with happiness and excitement. The graduates had realized it was time to move on.

You could feel the excitement from everyone who participated in the graduation ceremony, from the graduates themselves to the friends and family who came to see them graduate.

It was a wonderful day, a day that will stay in the hearts of the class of '90 forever.

Hooray for the class of '90!

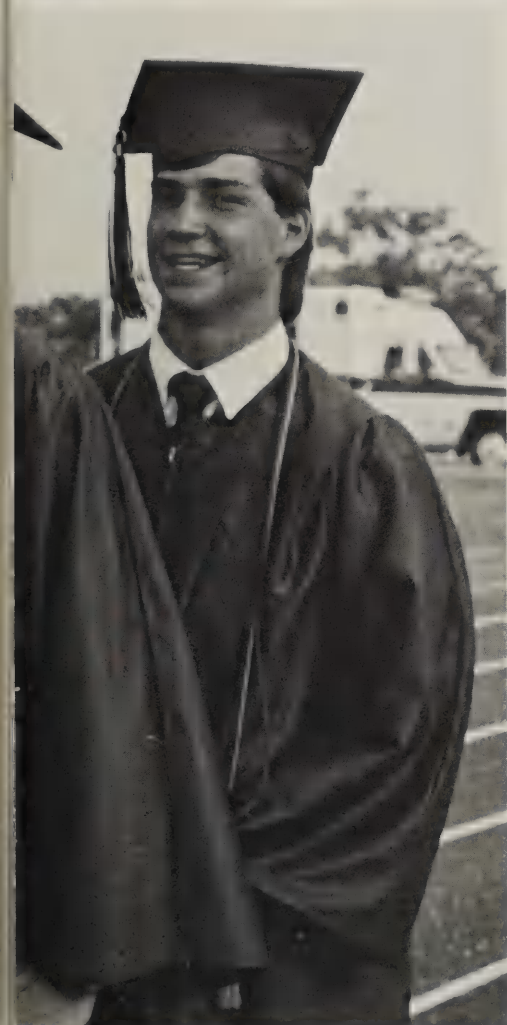

Darryl Wood looks kind of nervous. Doesn't he?

Yes, that's right Andy Crawford, it's time. We're graduating!

Chad Eckart has an interesting grin on his face.

People

50 People

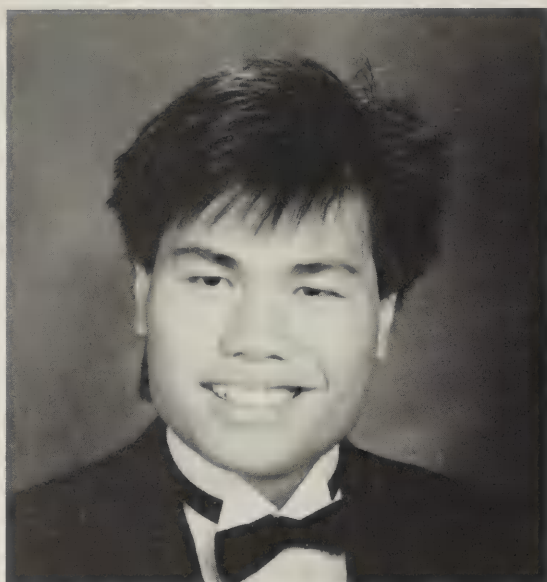

Everyone seems to be living it up at the homecoming dance, jammin' to the beat of Milli Vanilli.

COOL, MAN, COOL... Seniors Lynne Roberts, Woody Spence, and Kathy Brown seem to be "sent" by the music on Saturday Session. In the background is Bobby Brewbaker, student M.C.

Then and Now

In Loving Memory Of...

Kaisone Thipsomphou

We would like to express this for the one we love. You will be "Forever Young." You were a special son. We miss you so much. We love you! Mom, Dad, Phouthone (Cathy), and Manibone (Bea).

Kristin Robertson

You were our best friend, but the time came for you to go.

At least we had time to get to know the special person you were. We miss you, but now you're climbing "The Stairway to Heaven." Best friends always, Angie, April, and Valerie.

The senior class officers: Front row: vice-president Tracy Brotherton, president Chad Eckart, and reporter Heather Hubbard. Back row: Secretary Tohynda DeLong and treasurer Regene Stanley. The class officers have been busy this year. Their accomplishments include senior class t-shirts, senior parking stickers, and an increase in pep rallies and assemblies. Several officers organized a picnic at the Peaks and a rec. field football game. These were for seniors only, but some underclassmen were allowed to attend. When asked his opinion about the senior class and its future, Chad Eckart said, "The class of '90, which is truly one of a kind, shows hope, promise, and stability for now and in the years to come."

Girls Lose, Boys Tie in Student Faculty Game

Mike Norton and David Graun get together to plan their strategy for winning the game.

Pam Overstreet shoots her warm - up free throws

Jamie Crawford shoots free throws for the first time

Seniors Jessica Key, Sean Dolley, Renee Zinn, Ricky Baldwin, Eric Carlson, Mike Norton, and Jason Wooldridge play in the water sprinkler for a while after a couple of hours of lying in the sun and playing volleyball.

Billy Toms attempts to sing his heart out as the band of recent graduates played for him.

Sean Dooley strives to do his best while playing in the senior picnic volleyball game.

Rodney Orange, Brian Carter, and Barry Herron take time out to drink a coke and cool down after a few hours of horsing around. Some seniors laid in the sun while others played volleyball, tossed a football, kicked a soccer ball around, or flew a frisbee across the football field. These seniors just seem to take it all in.

Billy Toms, Mike Orange, Janie Arrington, and Jamie Crawford anxiously await their food at the senior dinner.

Even after problems with decorations, flowers, plates, silverware, and the food arriving one hour late, the senior dinner still went well. There were enough red and white carnations on the tables for everyone who felt they needed one, and the food, though consumed quickly, was good and plentiful. After eating, the senior class officers got everyone's attention and read off the senior superlatives. As seen in the pictures above and on the previous page, they turned out to be pretty accurate. At the beginning of the meal, the senior wills and prophecies were given out. These were extremely interesting and at times hilarious. Everyone had been anxiously waiting to read them. At the end of the dinner, all of the seniors went over to the auditorium and were given awards in such categories as math, science, economics, and journalism. All the seniors seemed to have a good time, and it seemed to bring this class, that has always seemed close, closer together.

Junior Lobe

The juniors are very close and are in one big group. They have had many get togethers this year. They have traveled to the Peaks of Otter for cookouts. They have gone to see movies. A few juniors have even gotten together a band.

The junior class has a very close relationship. Everyone in the class is friends with one another. The juniors work together as a team to let everyone know how proud they are of their class.

Get Away

Most students come to school to escape parents' rules and enter a world of learning and being mature. As juniors in high school, we learn to make up excuses like, "The halls were too crowded, and I couldn't get through." "There was a fight." "My locker was jammed!" "I went to the wrong class." As the bell rang everyday, the teachers were flooded with these and similar excuses.

Whether tardy because the distance was too far to travel in five minutes or because the hall clocks were off, students received detention after three tardies. Being in detention made the students wish they had never come to school that day.

Mobing up

Most juniors think they just have one more year to go. They think about going to a college and which one it will be. This time has finally come. They have been waiting for this. Many students felt pressured by all the questions. "It seems like I have to plan my whole life right now, and I'm not sure that I am ready yet," said Kim Heptinstall.

Leaders

The junior class officers are Eric Lowry, president; Carol Williamson, vice-president; Nicki Sherman, secretary; Alysia Barrett, treasurer; and Elizabeth Bennett, reporter. The class officers helped in the organization of the 1990 prom. Each Officer was assigned to a different room to begin charge of the decoration. The officers helped in picking out the theme, colors, and the different decorations in each room.

Junior SPIRIT!

The year went by so fast for juniors. Nobody would have thought our high school years would pass right by us. Juniors showed their spirit for the first time at the boy's basketball pep rally. The juniors beat the seniors in the spirit yell. Prom was a very big event for juniors. It was lots of hard work, but it all paid off in the end.

Look at that junior love!

Denise Howard and Hedron Doolittle are doing lots of work.

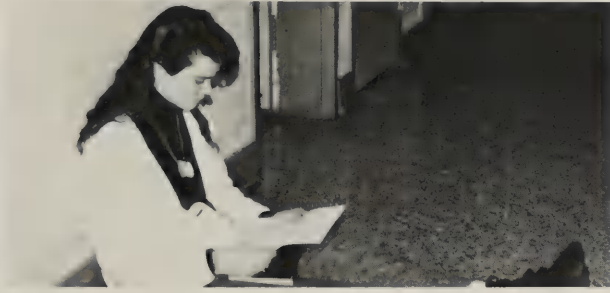

Tracy Claytor looks happy

Danny, Todd, and Jeff seem to be paying attention.

Eileen Ganley is hard at work.

Della James speaks out loud to the class.

Amy Hutson tries to get away from Mr. Worrell.

Look at all that junior spirit!

We Are At Play

Freshmen are still the lowest group at Liberty. The reason for this is that the eighth graders were moved away. This year's freshmen only have to take gym for one more year. To most of the freshmen this is great, but some will continue and take advanced P.E. One might think that these people are crazy, but there are people out there who do really enjoy gym. Just think, after no more gym, you will not have to bring gym clothes. Girls, you can wear anything you want. After this one more year, you will be free from gym for the rest of your life.

Fresh At Work

The freshmen learned this year that high school is not an easy job. If you take the hard classes, you have to do the work to pass the class. The higher you go, the harder it gets. The freshmen learned this, this year. Just think, if this year was hard, wait until next year. They will have a lot more fun as they go up. They will get more involved in the school. They will get more spirit and pep. In one sense school will get easier. If they can get into what they are doing, they will do a better job. So the freshmen look forward to the difficulty and the fun that will come with moving up in high school.

In Class

*S*usan Brown, Ronald Judge, and Tony Johnson look hard at work in class.

Most students take pride in doing well in school. Wonder what makes one person do well and another one not? Maybe it's the love for knowledge, or maybe it's to keep out of trouble. So, people that like to get in trouble so badly in school get poor grades. That is why we have to get through to these kids.

In The Halls

Jimmy Wray and Jeremy Nichols show us what fun it is to walk down the halls of Liberty. Most people walk or just stand in the halls and talk to their friends before the day begins. Most people would rather spend the whole day like this. To most people this is the best part of the day. This is the best way to talk to the friends that aren't in your class and maybe find someone you like.

Fresh Views

Surveys are sometimes interesting to conduct. They can tell much about a group as a whole.

The following are some questions asked of several freshmen along with a sampling of the answers.

(1) How do you feel about being a freshman? "I feel that being a freshman is a privilege, and I take great pride in it." - Chiquita Lee. "I think it's fine because everyone is here one time or another." - Kelly Witt.

(2) What has been your best excuse for being late? Never been late - Cory Anderson. Fell in the toilet - Christi Chewning.

(3) What has been your best memory of LHS so far? Football Games - Christy Bobbitt. The fights - Donny Holdren.

(4) What has been your best excuse for a bad grade? My teacher remembers you - William Day. Everybody got the same grade - Donna Elhage.

Kevin Ridgeway looks mad. Is it because of this test?

Matt Hogan and Sean Horne look like they take their biology class seriously.

Mobing up

Even though this is their second year of being at the bottom of the ladder. The freshman class doesn't seem to matter.

To freshmen it feels the same way as it did last year. Then some other freshmen just don't really care.

According to Jennifer Adams, "It doesn't bother me any. I really don't ever think about it. Everybody acts the same no matter what grade they're in."

So it seems to me that they're going to have pretty impressive high school memories.

 Mrs. Mason is teaching the class. It's nice to know that teachers do not know everything.
 Most teachers are visited by Mr.
 Worrell at least once during the year to see how they are doing. Teachers get graded in a way ,too, you could say. If they do well, they get praise.
 Wouldn't it be nice if we could get money for doing school work. When we go and get a job, we will get money for what we learned in school.

The New Arrivals

Both Mr. Falls and Mr. Ponder had new arrivals this year. Mr. Falls had a baby girl named Cailin Nicole, and Mr. Ponder had a baby boy named Jordan Marshall. For both of them, this is the most wonderful thing that has happened to them. They now have even more responsibility. Babies can be alot of work. Of course their wives are actually the ones who had the babies, and are also the ones who do alot of the work in caring for the newborns. But these teachers are two men who do all they can to help.

Then and Now

Tough...

This year's varsity football team may not have had a winning season, but all their fans and the cheerleaders knew they were number one. Through all the practices and hard work up until their first game, the team showed how tough they really were this season.

Their best games this season were victories won through a total team effort. They beat William Campbell, who was undefeated through six games until then.

Scores
Us	Opponent
6	0	William Campbell
0	23	Brookville
7	26	Altavista
0	12	Buckingham
32	0	Gretna
6	26	Nelson County
14	34	Jefferson Forest
0	47	Rustburg
27	24	Staunton River
21	14	Appomattox

Denise Howard, Angela Panky, Melinda Burger, and Melissa Stafford along with Jennifer Holt cheer for our winning team.

Varsity, front row: David Goff, Jay Dagenhart, Butch Dreany, Mike Jarrell, Troy Maxfield, Scott Carter, Mike Dooley, Mike Norton, Kevin Miller, and Xavier Patterson. Second row: Ray Brawley, Ghaunce Jones, Alphonso Galloway, Sarif Stewart, Eric Allen, Eric Lewis, Mike Orange, Danny Overstreet, Sean Dooley, and Brian Baker. Back row: Grisman Hardy, Chris Smith, William Jones, Eric Lowery, Jim Booth, Isaac Slaughter, Roger Dick, Chris Bryant, Patrick McNease, Brian Carter, Chad Eckhart, and Eric Davis.

Number 12, Mike Doolet, stands around wondering what on earth is going on.

Hey, where are you guys going? The game is not over yet.

...Season

Staunton River's game was won by the score of 27 - 24. It was a close game, but we pulled it off. The best overall game was when we played Gretna and walked away with the score of 32 - 0. The game against Gretna was this year's Homecoming.

With the help of Coach Falls, Coach Watts, Coach Reedy, and Coach Kelso, the team was able to beat last year's overall record. Way to go guys! Good luck next year too.

Billy Toms walks away with Mr. and Mrs. Toms with bandaged fingers and a smile on his face.

Number 77, Brian Garter, is just waiting to tackle his opponent.

Dawn Gherebin stands smiling beside Mrs. Gherebin at the crowd.

Kevin Miller is trying to walk on his knees to victory.

Effort

The junior varsity team had a very successful season this year with a record of 4 wins and 5 losses. Through rain and shine, they practiced hard and played even harder to prove they could win their games.

With the help of Coach Craig and team effort, they walked away as winners.

Their best games were against Gretna, which they won 18 - 14, and against Nelson County, which they won 24 - 21. But the overall best game played was against Staunton River, which they won by the score 24 - 6.

This team showed how well they could do under pressure and how working together can bring you to the top. Way to go guys!

These guys really know how to put them on the ground good and hard.

Sammy Mason and Mike Anderson are ready to discuss the next play with the other teammates.

Girls on the Go

The j.v. basketball team completed a very successful season on October 26 with a 38 - 9 win over Rustburg. The entire team contributed in almost every game. In several games everyone on the team scored at least one point. Kelly Witt was the leading scorer for the year with a 7.2 point per game average. Gina Overstreet scored 5.4 points per game. Michelle Crider averaged 5.9 points per game, and Tracy Miller had 5 points per game. Mr. Bill Boyer was the coach, and what a great job he did!

Running Ahead

Running a race means putting forth your best effort, and that's what this year's cross country teams did.

Each runner proved to be strong and dedicated, and that made the season more enjoyable for both the teams and the coaches. Coach Eckes stated that there was a lot of improvement throughout the year, but he's hoping more runners will run next year. The assistant coach was Mr. Melton and the manager was Amy Lindon.

Receiving awards at the banquet were Sam Wright and Rebecca Pawlas who both received the coach's award. Lee Anne Mosby and Mike Snow were the most improved runners.

Let's Go Guys!

Throughout the 1989-1990 varsity boy's basketball season, a lot of spirit was shown by our team. If some of the guys weren't in the game, they were yelling for their teammates from the sidelines. During the bus rides to away games, the team concentrated on the game plan; and, if they won, they celebrated on the way home. There was never a dull moment with this team! They had spunk!

During the student-faculty game, they proved they had spunk when they pulled off a tie with the men's team. Tim Drew scored 11 points, and Keith Cloes had 8. Everyone helped the score.

Chris Wood, Jamey Crawford, Chris Dean, David Graun, Sariff Stewart, and Mike Norton show their enthusiasm during a game by cheering the guys on. The coaches watch the game.

Play On!

The varsity boy's basketball team came back this year hoping to improve their record over last year. Our new coach, Mark Hanks, taught the team new plays and ideas. Ray Brawley, Keith Coles, and Chris Wood had minor injuries with ligaments but were soon playing again. Before the season had started, David Craun had broken his arm, but it healed in time for him to play. At the banquet, Timmy Drew was named the player with the most rebounds and the highest field goal percentage. He made first team all-district and second team all-area. Mike Norton was named best defensive player and averaged 10 points per game and 3.5 assists. Keith Coles averaged 12 points and 5 assists. Ray Brawley had 10 points and 8.5 rebounds, and Ricky Baldwin averaged 8 points. Jamey Crawford received the senior leadership award.

Shoot Two!

The junior varsity boy's basketball team consisted of 5 freshmen and 6 sophomores. During the season, Brad Stevens broke his foot and was unable to play until later in the season.

Comparing this year to last year, the team as a whole has improved. They are more experienced and have learned to work together as a team. This year's record was six wins and fourteen losses. They showed more competitiveness, and there were close margins in the score.

The JV coach was Coach Craig. He was pleased with the progress of his team this year, and he's looking forward to an even better season next year.

Worth It

Most people don't realize how much work, exercise, and dedication it takes to be on the wrestling team.

The wrestlers must maintain a specific weight, keep in the best of shape, and eat the right foods. But it is worth it.

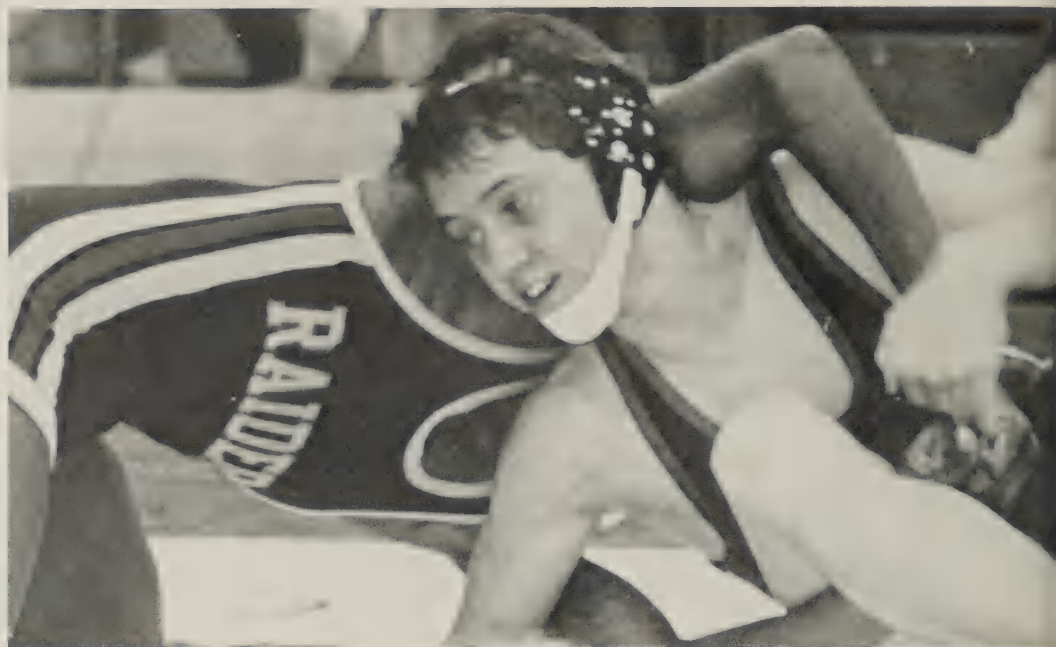

This year there were three seniors on the team. They were Mike Orange, Billy Toms, and Troy Maxfield. These wrestlers will be greatly missed by the team.

The team captains this year were Mike Orange, Billy Toms, Troy Maxfield, and Eric Lowery. The team captains set an example for all their teammates. They help motivate the team and encourage them to do their best and not to give up when the going gets tough. The captains are also there with support when someone has lost a tough match.

All the wrestlers do their part to make the team as great as it is. After the season, after all the hard work, the wrestlers were asked, "Was it worth it?" They all answered, "Yes!"

This Is It

Th on your mark, get set, go! If you were on the track team and in a running event, these words would be very familiar to you. This year's team members were in the 100M, 200M, 400M, 800M, 1600M, 400M relay, and the 1600M relay. Several of the members participated in field events such as shot put and discus, long jump, triple jump, and high jump.

At many of the meets, the team was very competitive, but because of the lack of members on the team, they had to forfeit some of the events. Those who placed at districts were Tim Drew, 1st in 400M and 3rd in Triple Jump; Brenda Lowrey, 1st in 100M and 4th in 200M; Conya Gilmore, 2nd in 800M; and Rebecca Pawlas, 3rd in 800M. During the summer months, the golf team started practicing at the Bedford Country Club. Seniors Jason Wooldridge and Matt Neal had exceptional showings this year on Liberty High School's golf team. Junior Jonathan Mason also performed well. Matt Neal was Liberty's top golfer for most of the season. In four out of six games, he placed first on his team. Jason Wooldridge also received a top team scoring as well as first place for Liberty in the district competition. Jonathan Mason placed first above the rest of the team in one of the team's meets. # Banding

The Liberty High School Band had a terrific year. They started the year off by winning first and second places at Altavista (2nd - Band, 1st - Flag Line). In the competition at Buena Vista, they first, second, and third places (1st - Flag Line, 2nd - Drum Major, and 3rd - Drum Line). At the Lynchburg Classic, they had excellent ratings. The band was in two Christmas parades, the Bedford Christmas parade and the Big Island Christmas parade. They won first place in both parades.

This year the band was invited to Walt Disney World to perform at the Magic Kingdom and at Epcot Center in Orlando, Florida from May 2 - 6.

The Concert Band went to District VI Concert Band Festival. They had superior and excellent ratings.

Regional Band included Tohnya DeLong, Tonya Hall, Wendy Thomas, Regene Stanley, Troy Jones, Mary Beth Davis, Kevin Venhorst, Nicki Sherman, Shelly Craig, Melinda Burger, and Jennifer Robey.

Tohnya DeLong competed in all state band tryouts. Twenty-three band members participated in the all county band. Superior ratings were given to Tohnya DeLong and Melinda Burger.

Liz Rowe and Kelly Lam are having fun leading the band before the game.

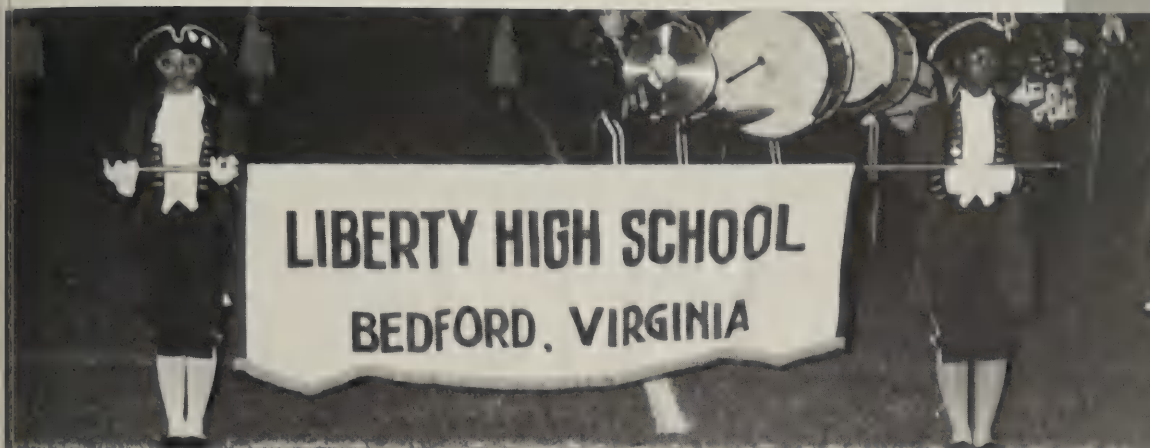

The LHS Band gets down while marching up the football field getting ready for a winning game.

What's so funny, Wendy? She'll never tell. Those who were there know.

Cathy Weichold, Tonya Jackson, Janice Payne, and Katina Jackson walk proudly up the field with the school banner and the American and school flags.

Niki, Reagene, Kevin, Tonya, Melinda, Wendy, and Shelly say hello.

Wendy Thomas just can't keep her mind on her music, try as she might.

Mrs. Ramsey's working hard to get the band to learn.

Wendy Thomas has gotten together with her pals to pose.

French and German Clubs

One way for Liberty students to explore new cultures is to take a French or German class. As an extra-curricular activity, some German and French students join German or French club.

The German club officers for this year were Matt Neal, president; Jason Kent, vice-president; Joyce Kasey, secretary; and Todd Hunziker, treasurer.

The French club officers for 1989-90 were Tohnya DeLong, president; Matthew Vanwinkle, vice-president; Tonya Hall, secretary; Heather Hylton, treasurer; and Lee Ann Wheat, reporter.

Mrs. Goff shows her German students some interesting German on the board.

French club. Front row: Manivone Thipsomphou, and Shanna Nichols. Second row: Marie Atkins, Janice Payne, and Felicia Spinners. Third row: P.J. Canedo, Nichol Thomas, and Stephanie Campbell. Fourth row: Diana Wingfield, Jenny Goshorn, and Joy Burke. Fifth row: Heather Hylton, Carolyn Graun, Tohnya DeLong, Lee Ann Wheat, Sally Fizer, and Jennifer Adams. Back row: Joey Coles, Gwen Church, Christie Wilkes, Kathleen Field, Christy Morehead, and Mr. Young.

Michael "Upside Down" Propst and Eric "Almost a Split" Martin show off their wonderful talents in German club. Wonder if anyone was impressed?

Que Pasa?

The Spanish club has done a lot this year. With selling flowers on Valentine's Day, they always have a good outcome in profit. The money will be used to do something fun. This always helps the people who cannot get to the flower store in time to show how much they care for their loved ones.

Wendy King, Kathy Weichold, and Tracy Bowyer show us the right way to give out flowers on Valentine's Day.

What are these lovely people doing? The Latin students look like they are turning into early Romans.

At the carnival, JCL did face painting. They don't look too busy to me. I'm sure the outcome was very good.

Quod?

The JCL club does a lot to entertain the school. On slave day we get to see what it was like when we had slaves or servants as we watch and observe the day's activities. All of Ms. Dow's classes enjoy the little shows that Latin puts on about Caesar and others in history. You get to see new things and habits of the Romans.

GL. Front row: Shannon Tillman, April Greene, Emily Beckwith, Eddie Boothe, Stacy Woodford, Susan Starkey, and Andy Jombeck. Second row: Magan Wilson and Marie Barnett. Back row: John Thomas, Mike Inge, Amanda Givens, Katie Small, Heather Smith, Jeremiah Hunt, and Lane Wilson.

Shelley Foster, SGA president, discusses with the students what they can do for the Ronald McDonald House.

Andy Crawford, president of SADD, tries to get order in the meeting while they talk among themselves.

Questions Asked?

The Student Council Association is a group of students that help make sure the students take part in what goes on and what decisions are made about school activities. This group sponsors dances. They have adopted a highway to clean. One of the dances was a charity dance which raised money for the Ronald McDonald House. The SCA has helped the students get their thoughts and suggestions heard. For the first time, we have a state officer who is also our secretary. Kristy Arrington is a hard working SCA member. The officers are president Shelley Foster, vice president Butch Dreany, secretary Kristy Arrington, reporter Jennifer Beckwith, and treasurer Heather Bivona. The officers have put forth a great effort to make the 1989-1990 school year a great one.

SADD is a club for students who are against drunk driving. The students are in tenth through twelfth grade. The members have designed t-shirts. They have created a roadside for the end of the school parking lot. The students were given contracts to sign by their parents and themselves saying that they will call home for a ride if they are drinking. It also stated that no questions will be asked that night. The officers include president Andy Crawford, vice president-secretary Beth Dunman, and treasurer Pam Overstreet.

The group seems thrilled about the ideas Shelley Foster has. Chad Eckart and Matt Neal like what's going to happen at the dance.

Helpful, Volunteer Service

The National Honor Society is one club that makes the students proud to be members. The students involved in this club have to have the grade point average of at least 3.35. This club consists of students who really enjoy doing certain volunteer work which is very helpful. The students get involved with everyday life, and it helps them achieve a great deal of experience in everyday life. Some of the students even help others with their school work.

Kim Minton, Liz Rorer, Elizabeth Bennet, and Carol Williamson sit around talking about club business.

Jason Wooldridge is all laid back and comfortable at one of his National Hon Society club meetings.

Tim Rice, Matt Neal, Sean Dooley, Mike Norton, and Kellay Church take a sit down to enjoy the indoors.

Look at these crazy people! Joey Coles and Lee Ann Wheat show us what fun it is to ride the bus on a trip.

In The Spot

ECP is a moving club. They are always doing something, going somewhere, or seeing something. This year on one trip, ECP went to Virginia Beach to have a good time, but their plans got changed, and the trip was shortened.

To be in ECP you have to keep up a good report card and be well behaved in school. ECP is an extended curriculum program.

What is the matter with Jennifer Goff? She isn't joining Kellay Church and Lee Ann Wheat in showing off their legs.

ECP. Front row: Hank Jackson, Sean Horne, Lee Ann Wheat, Joel Raintree, Joy Burke, Carolyn Graun, and Jennifer Goff. Second row: Chris Ashworth, Luara Mitchell, Jennifer Goshorn, Kellay Church, Sean Dooley, Jennifer Robey, Deborah Steen, and Mica Hendricks. Third row: Jennifer Boyer, John Ayers, Cory Anderson, Jennifer Wingfield, Mike Norton, Matt Neal, Jennifer Beckwith, and Tim Rice. Back row: Robert Frick, William Day, and Joey Coles.

WOW! This must be one very exciting club meeting for Robert Baldwin.

Fun

The name art club doesn't sound very exciting, but until you have been a member, you don't know how much fun it really is!

The art club is a club that you are proud to be a member of. A club that really does things that the students enjoy doing and are interested in.

This year at the 25th anniversary festival, the art club had their own booth and sold earrings that the members had made.

Also this year, many of the students entered some of their art work in the annual Bedford County Art Show, and this year was no exception.

To be a member of the art club, a student must be enrolled in an art class. Those who don't join the art club, don't know what they're missing.

It looks like Jana VanWinkle is rapping things up.

Crazy

The junior engineering and technical society, better known as JETS, has become one of Liberty's most popular clubs. In fact the JETS have gotten a little crazy at times. Once a year the club goes to Virginia Tech to compete with other JETS clubs. Part of the test is to build a bridge out of tooth picks. The winner is the bridge that holds the most weight. Our club represents us well every year. Another fun competition the JETS have every year among themselves is the famous egg drop. The imaginatively crated eggs are well protected every year.

Jeff Grant, Lonnie Johnson, and Heather Hale seem to think that Mr. Carlson's ideas are quite funny.

Angela Pankey, Terry Burrus, and Sean Horne are waiting for the arrival of the other members.

JETS club members, Front row: Morris Gills, Tim Snow, Brian Baker, Eric Carlson, Patrick Mc Neace, Chad Eckard, Jay Dagenheart, and Troy Maxfield. Second row: Sean Dooley, Jeff Grant, Billy Toms, Melinda Burger, Angela Pankey, and Heather Hale. Back row: Sean Horne, Jeff Moorman, Julie Arrington, Kristy Arrington, Lonnie Johnson, and Ricky Baldwin.

Know - How

Future Farmers of America is an agricultural club that participated in many different activities this year. They had fruit sales, a big buck contest, and many more.

Members of the FFA won awards. Dale Frye and Robbie Smith received an award for State Farmers Degree. Lonnie Bailey received an award for the Star Green-hand. Donny Holdren was named Star Chapter Farmer. Bryan Smith, Jimmy Wray, David Croft, Lonnie Bailey, Jeremy Walker, and Debra Mosely all won awards at dairy judging.

The FFA is sponsored by Mr. Grant and Mr. Harman. It consists of president Dale Frye, vice-president Bryan Smith, and secretary Donna Harmon. The rest of the members are Landon Carter, David Croft, Greg Dooley, Brian Finch, Joey Guillems, Curt Goff, Jonathon Hylton, Sam McDaniel, Debra Mosely, Daniel Overstreet, Greg Overstreet, Billy Scott, Robbie Smith, Dennis Williamson, Jason Whalen, Jeremy Toms, Eddie Trail, Robbie Gray, Neil Abbott, and Lonnie Baily.

American Technology Students Association is another agricultural club that teaches students how to use tools and work with their hands.

The ATSA hung banners in the cafeteria and made wooden passes for the teachers.

This is sponsored by Mr. Bill Boyer and consists of president David Overstreet, vice-president Ben Nash, treasurer Lesley Brawley, secretary Mike Burns, historian Mike Layne, parliamentarian Jeff Maynard, sergeant at arms Pat Johnston, and the members are Pat Green, Matt Shutt, Tim Snead, Forrest Burnette, P.W. Day, Kevin St.Clair, Brandon Bradley, and Jeremy Nichols.

Jason Whalen surely does look just like he is more than a little puzzled by what he sees.

Forrest Burnette shows us that we can be assured that he knows exactly what he is doing.

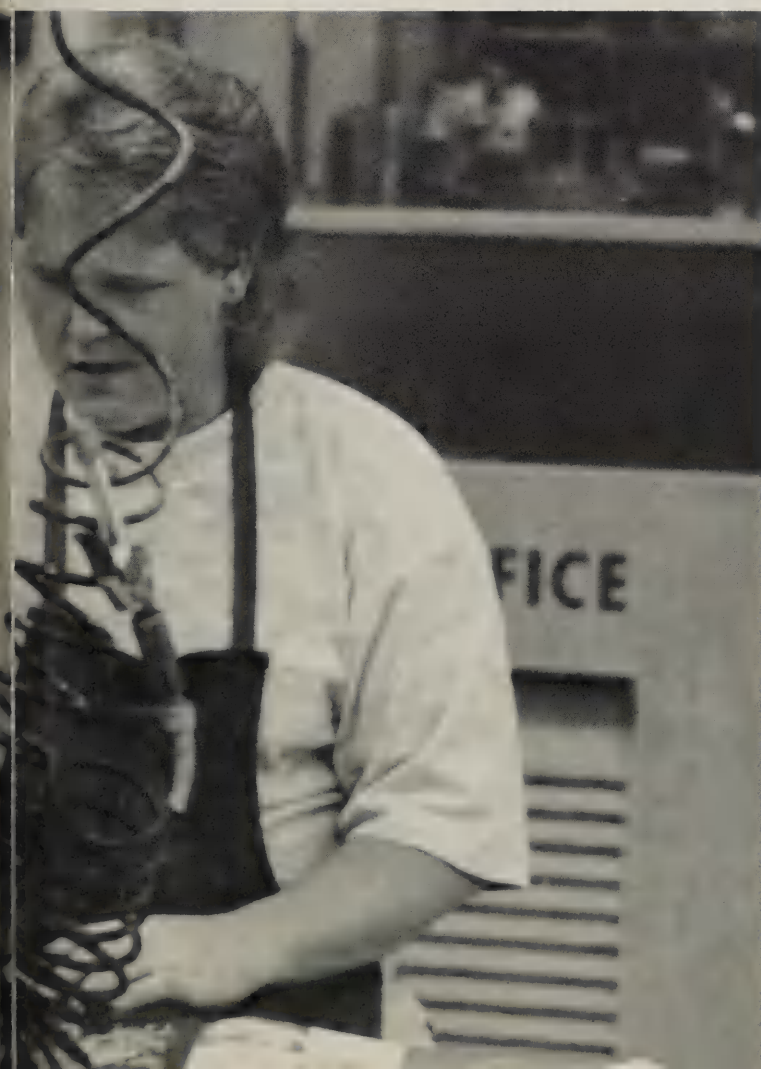

Greg Dooley wonders what he could do with these two pieces of wood if he were to use his imagination.

Mike Layne is, as he usually does, working hard on his project which, when finished, will be impressive.

Jeremy Toms didn't look at the camera because he doesn't want anyone to know he likes the Redskins.

Future Shot

During the 1989-90 school year, Liberty has added a new club for those people who like to get out and enjoy hunting with a bow. The archery club is sponsored by Mrs. Skinnel. It gives students a very good opportunity to learn and have more skill with a bow and arrow.

Future Homemakers of America is sponsored by Mrs. Mayhew. FHA helps young people learn how to perform everyday household tasks. Students learn things such as cooking meals, family planning, and sewing, among other things. In FHA the students are entered into several different competitions at Federation Day at B.E.C.

Is Chris Wright really shooting at a target, or is he pulling back the bow to show his muscles?

Archery club: Forest Burnette, Chris Wright, Troy Hensley, Troy Johnson, Matt Hogan, and Adam Krantz.

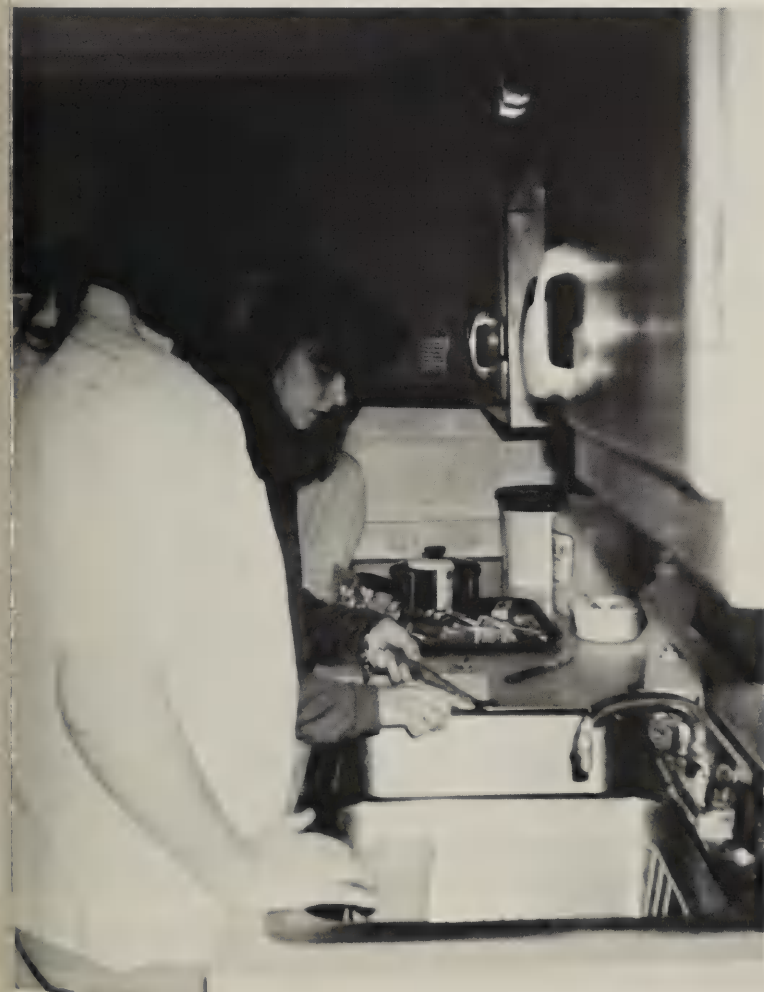

Matt Hogan concentrates dilligently on shooting his bow and arrow during archery club.

Malinda Reaves, Tomekia Wingo, and Michelle Robertson look suspicious as they cook up a secret recipe during a Future Homemakers of America club meeting.

Christina Nelson is busy packing away vegetables to freeze so they can be thawed and enjoyed months later. Learning how to store food is another skill FHA teaches.

FHA. Front: Dawn Garrett, Stacy Burton, Spring Byers, Donna Elhage, Amy Buchanan. Next: Gail Dean, Susan Brown, Carrie Thomas, Donna Miller, Alicia Jefferson, Karen Sipes. Back: Mrs. Mayhew, April Witt, Angie Overstreet, Kelly Spence, Tonya Mitchen, Lisa Ross, Susan Parker, Tonya Jackson.

Carrie Thomas shows her skills in the kitchen.

Hi-Y Raises Funds

The 1989-90 Co-Ed HI-Y Club of Liberty High School has had a busy school year. the club feels that every classroom should have an American flag displayed in it. It should represent a sense of pride and liberty. Therefore, the club selected a committee to work on this matter.

uring the months of November and December, volunteers spent time cleaning the Bedford Museum. This was a great opportunity for community service.

At Thanksgiving, the club sponsored a raffle for a turkey. At Christmas, another raffle was held, this time offering a 25 pound box of candy. Club members also collected Toys for Tots. Some members spent their spare time selecting gifts to give to "Angels" from an "Angel Tree." The club also held its annual food drive for local needy families. Each class participated in this project, bringing in a large amount of food to be delivered to area families.

One of the clubs more important annual activities was the participation in the Model General Assembly, held in Richmond, April 19-21.

Co-Ed Hi-Y Club, front row: Heather Hubbard, Sarah Monroe, Bonnie Turley, Jamey Crawford, Kelly Lam, and David Graun. Second row: Nicole Shakelford, Denise Howard, Cindy Collier, Mike Jarrel, Wanda Webber, Beth Dunman, and Kelly Witt. Back row: Jennifer Beckwith, Kevin Venhorst, Andy Crawford, Mike Norton, Mike Orange, and David Goff.

Bonnie Turley and Kelly Lam are getting ready for the 25th Anniversary carnival.

Going off are vice president Rhonda Bowles, treasurer David Graun, president Michael Orange, secretary Heather Hubbard, and reporter Kelly Lam.

Rodney Orange concentrates as he takes his turn at the Co-Ed Hi-Y horse shoe throw during the twenty-fifth year anniversary carnival.

Drive Safely!

The traffic safety club has been meeting for many years. Every month we have a meeting and discuss people putting on their seatbelts and how the highways are. The traffic safety club will keep making people wear their seatbelts.

The most convincing argument for the seatbelt is a machine called the "Convincer." Students take turns sitting in a car seat that is on a spring loaded slide. they fasten their seatbelt, and the spring is released. The seat slides on the "Convincer" at a speed simulating only fifteen miles per hour. It rams into a steel post and comes to a halt. The student feels the force of the crash but is kept safe by the belt. The student is now "convinced."

Tammy Williamson and Todd Parker discuss the "Convincer" at the carnival.

Jelena Hobson, Michelle Wingo, and Tomekia Wingo are taking it easy while selling candied apples.

Standing in the hall, Dalerie Brown looks puzzled.

Serbe

FBLA collected food for Hurricane Hugo victims. The students provided clerical services to the teachers. The members set up sales campaigns to raise money for the club. A speaker from CVCC came and talked to them about college, and a speaker came from Phillip's Business College to talk to them about how to dress for success. Some of the members attended the Virginia State FBLA Conference in Roanoke. They had a banquet to give out awards and install new officers.

Angelica Rivero and other members of FBLA seem to be very interested in what their guest speaker has to say.

The guest speaker from Phillip's Business College tells the members how to dress for success.

Kathy Murray, Stacy McKinney, Tina Judge, and Sonya Ferguson seem to be interested in leaving while Patricia Mitchen shows the camera her tongue. Stacy McKinney also flashes a big smile to show how happy she is to be there.

London Long seems to be working very hard at a DECA meeting, and Valerie Agee seems to have her mind elsewhere.

Front row: Angie Isenhour, Robin Hartman, Katrina Jones, Stephanie Bays, Stephanie Jurkus, and Shirley Crouch. Second row: Troy Brawley, Kevin Miller, Angela Key, Mike Fuqua, Mary Anne Kavis, and Angela Aliff. Third row: Valerie Agee, Jessica Williams, Crystal Guilliams, Jennifer Gish, Murdock Ragland, and Marlene Witt. Back row: Marion Wilson, Drew Gordon, Renee Brough, Calvin Bragg, and April Garhart.

Angela Key, Shirley Crouch, Stephanie Jurkus, and Robin Hartman toast to an evening with all officers of DECA.

Work

DECA members sold candy to raise money for their dinner at the Bedford Station. They also had two pizza parties. The members also attended a field trip to a Dominion Bank in Roanoke. Mr. Hartman came and talked to the club about business. DECA went to River Ridge Mall to compete in a competition against other DECA members from all over Bedford County. The officers are president Robin Hartman, vice-presidents Kevin Miller, and Angela Jones, secretary Shirley Crouch, reporter Stephanie Jurkus, and historian Katrina Jones.

Angela Jones seems to be trying to hide her excitement after receiving her certificate.

Carnival Celebrating

This year the staff, along with the students of Liberty High School, got together and held the 25th anniversary of the school. Every club got together to have a booth to represent the club. Most of the booths consisted of fun and games. There were others that had food and t-shirts.

In honor of this event, Coach Cutler and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes held a basketball shoot. According to Mr. Boyer, their event sold around 175 tickets, and they gave away a lot of great prizes. The best thing was enjoying being with friends.

Carolyn Graun looks excited as she balances herself to make the shot in the basket to win her prize.

FCA Front row: Jennifer Robey, Christie Wheeler, Stephanie Burger, Benny Morgan, Chequite Lee, Brenda Lowery, Sean McNaughton, and Brad Stevens. Second row: Shelly Foster, Christy Ellis, Jason Toms, Amy Dooley, Shannon Webster, Cassie Tripper, Laura Mitchell, Christy Bobbit, Gina Overstreet, and Pam Karnes. Back row: Mr. Cutler, Dawn Cherebin, Mrs. Turpin, Tracy Brotherton, Mr. Boyer, Sandra Horst, Kevin Miller, Sarif Stewart, Chris Dean, Ray Brawley, Kerry Hogan, Eric Martin, Jason Wooldridge, Kirk Fisher, and Jonathan Mason.

Sean McNaughton stands by along with Coach Cutler in anticipation waiting for his ball to go in.

Mr. Boyer, Coach Falls, Mrs. Turpin, Coach Cutler, along with Mrs. Cutler sit around waiting for volunteers.

Mrs. Kiester and Jennifer Viring take time out of a busy club day to have a quick picture taken.

In The Sky

Young astronauts and weather have done a lot. In fact they do a lot every year. They went to King's Dominion this year. Every year they go somewhere just for fun. I'm sure everybody enjoyed their trip. Nobody can resist the fun of a park especially if you are with your friends. Another thing that they look forward to is shooting rockets. Every year in the spring, they go out with rockets to see how they work.

Fanatic, Fan, or Investor?

David Bobbitt is Editor-in-Chief of the Collage. Other leaders, pictured here, are Robert Baldwin, Heather Hale, and Lani Johnson. Together, they recruited and managed one of the largest staffs the Collage has ever had. They worked hard raising money and paid off all the old debts, leaving the student literary magazine good financial health. There was a candy sales drive. Twenty-fifth anniversary t-shirts were printed and sold at the school's celebration carnival.

The baseball card club was one of the newer clubs at Liberty this year. Collecting baseball cards has been a popular hobby for many generations. It's popularity has swollen in the last few years. These cards have become collector's items. Hundreds of thousands of dollars are involved nationwide. Some of the collections of our own students are valued in the hundreds of dollars. Baseball itself has enjoyed some of its best years lately in popularity. The card club members were fans of the game as well. Most of the club time was spent examining, exchanging, buying, and selling baseball cards. The search was always for that long lost, very old, mint condition card.

Mr. Falls is looking at the camera and wondering why the photographer is taking his picture.

While the staff photographers were getting pictures for the yearbook, many subjects were caught off guard. Club members were no exception.

Student Mag

The Collage has continued for years as the student magazine. The students submitted their poetry, prose, and art which was then published in their own literary magazine. This year's edition was volume twenty-four and twenty-five. While this was the school's twentieth anniversary, it was discovered that there had not been a Collage during that first year. The decision was made to bring the volume number up to date with the actual age of the school. This year's volume had, according to popular opinion, the best overall selection of artwork in many years. The prose and poetry met with high approval ratings as well.

This year's staff was highly praised for bringing the Collage out of debt. They paid off the old deficit while covering the costs of this year's printing as well. The editor-in-chief, David Bobbit, also won an academic award from G.E. which he designated to the Collage.

Byron Smith is puzzled about something. It may be that he has just studied some of the student art that was submitted. His choice of which to print is difficult.

Collage staff, front row: Byron Smith, Manavone Thipsomphou, Tomekia Wingo, Stephanie Campbell, Nicole Thompson, and Tad Daniel. Second row: P. J. Canedo, Lee Ann Wheat, Stacy Bowman, and Gonya Gillmore. Third row: Robert Baldwin, Mandy Colhoun, Diana Wingfield, Jelena Hobson, and Amy Lindon. Back row: David Bobbit, Amy Buchanan, Heather Hale, Lani Johnson, and Monika Harris.

Heather Hylton and Leigh Anne Mosby are hard at work in Mr. Young's class.

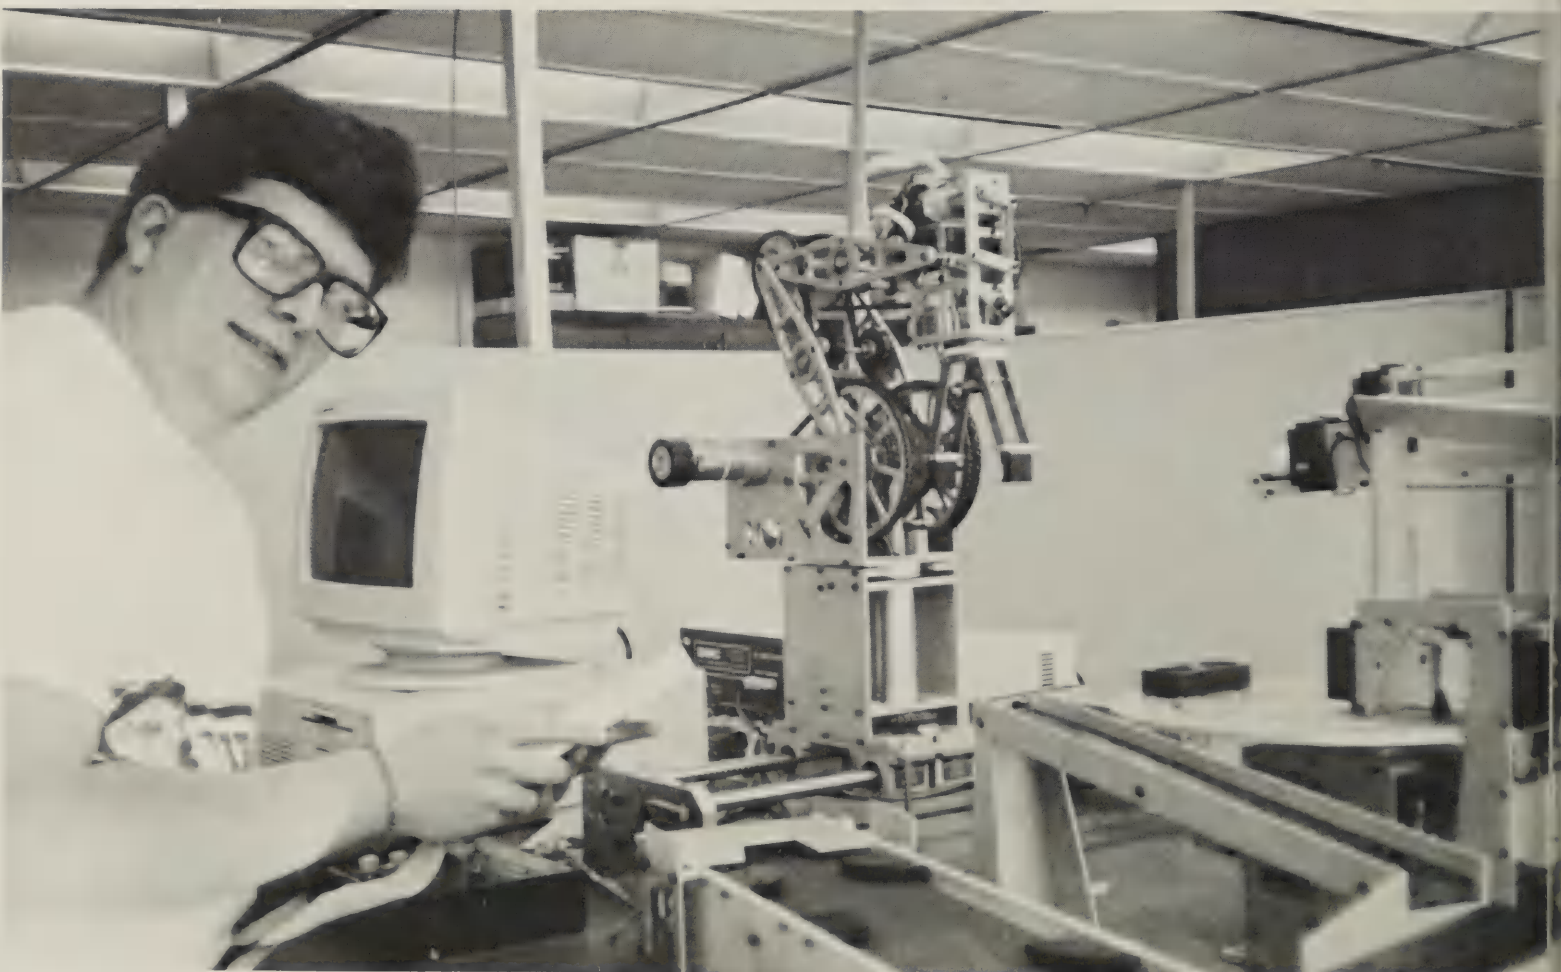

DANVILLE ANYONE?... Mike Prillman appears unconvinced as he and Chris Bedell speak with a representative from Danville Tech.

Then and Now

Pete Connor is giving it his best to help Janie Arrington on the Computer.

Rebecca Pawlas turns and smiles because she has the answer to the equation.

David Bobbit is demonstrating, by way of computer, how this machine works. If anyone understand how it works, he does. Whether anyone else can understand is a good question.

Mary Banker and Aaron Northrop stop to check out what John Horne is busy doing.

Jump Start

The Central Virginia Magnet School is one of four schools created in Virginia to help promote an interest in science and mathematics and to give students interested in these subjects an opportunity to use equipment and resources not available at their home schools. The curriculum provides a challenging junior program and a senior program in which students can earn college credit.

In many ways magnate school is a great opportunity for students to receive an accelerated hands-on education in science and math. They get experience, an internship junior year, and college credit senior year. However, there are some bad parts too. An accelerated education means a heavier homework load. This and the fact that magnate school is held in the morning can reduce the time that the students can spend with their friends. Senior Rebecca Pawlas commented that it's true that they don't get to see their friends as much as they would like. It is a lot harder. She went on to say, "The friends that I have met there, the things that I have learned and done, and the jump start that I will have in college make it all worthwhile."

Dawn Cherebin

Mr McGoy and Janie Arrington help out Rebecca Pawlas on her experiment with soil. Working together is something they always look forward to doing.

Clair McGoy gives us the surprise look as we catch her reading up on her biology.

Wonderful Science

Science is one subject that we really need. As much as some people hate it, it is helping us a lot.

A lot of students are very involved in science. This year we had a lot of students go to the regional science fair, and we had a lot of winners. They will go to Tulsa to compete. A lot of the prizes were money. Science can pay off if you work at it.

Science can be a lot of fun, if you have the right outlook. You only have to put up with it in school, so try and enjoy it. Science can benefit you if you want it to. Science is all around you if you look. It affects your life and always will. So look at it like that and maybe it will help you out in your work. Just give it a try; you might like it.

Sean Horne looks very thrilled to be working with the clams in Mrs. Key's biology class. I wonder if he is having fun?

Kelly Lam looks enthused about working with the microscope. I wonder if she is getting her work done?

Mr. Boyer is teaching Chris Bryant and Marion Wilson how to do a good job when working with machines.

Arts

*I*ndustrial arts is a class that ranges from technical drawing to working with wood and metal. We don't see a lot of girls in these classes. Most people consider them a guy's department. Like home ec. is for girls, I'd like to see a guy make it on his own not knowing how to cook. We need to change the scene and try something different. Girls need to learn some of these skills.

These classes usually are taken because you want to go into that when you grow up. So try and keep up the good work in what you are doing, whatever it is, and have fun!

Greg Dooley is working hard to get his project done on time. Wonder if he is going to make it?

Junior Perdue, Joseph Webber, and Lonnie Bailey look entertained in the class. Why is Shawn Maynard looking from the camera? Maybe he is shy.

Easy

P. E. was often one of the most dreaded classes here at Liberty. A time when you had to run, jump rope, and get hot and sweaty. It also was a class where there was no homework, no pressure, and a time to play around with friends. P. E. has its good parts along with its bad, but over all P. E. is a fun class.

P. E. is taken your ninth and tenth grade year at Liberty. It is a required course. After a student has completed the tenth grade year and would like to continue on with P. E., he may take advanced P. E.

P. E. does not seem so great when you are running the mile or jumping for five minutes, but after it's all over, it is one class students miss the most. Some even try to stay in good physical shape on their own after they can no longer take a P. E. class. The teachers feel very gratified when this happens.

RUN, RUN, RUN. That is all Kim Little seems to do, and she loves doing it.

There goes Jim Booth again. He is making those free throws and saving the game again.

It looks like Scott Carter has just given up, but he will persevere.

As you can see, Home Ec. is not all eating good food. The students also have to study.

Life Skills

Home Economics is one of the most valued classes offered at Liberty. It also is one of the most popular classes. It seems like everyone is taking or has taken Home Economics. And these days it is not just girls who are taking Home Economics. Boys also enjoy learning to cook and sew.

Home Economics is a two year course that focuses on cooking, sewing and life management skills.

After completing Home Economics, students have learned many skills they will use for a lifetime. This year the Bedford County school system spent many classroom hours on a family life curriculum. These topics fit very well into the Home Economics curriculum.

Cleaning up is never fun to do. This is no exception for Carla Williams and Tia Harris.

Is Michele Robertson working hard on her meal or just playing around?

Jason Gish is really interested in what's going on in algebra class.

Tracy Glator seems to be waiting patiently for Mrs. Wray to come answer her question. In math there are lots of questions.

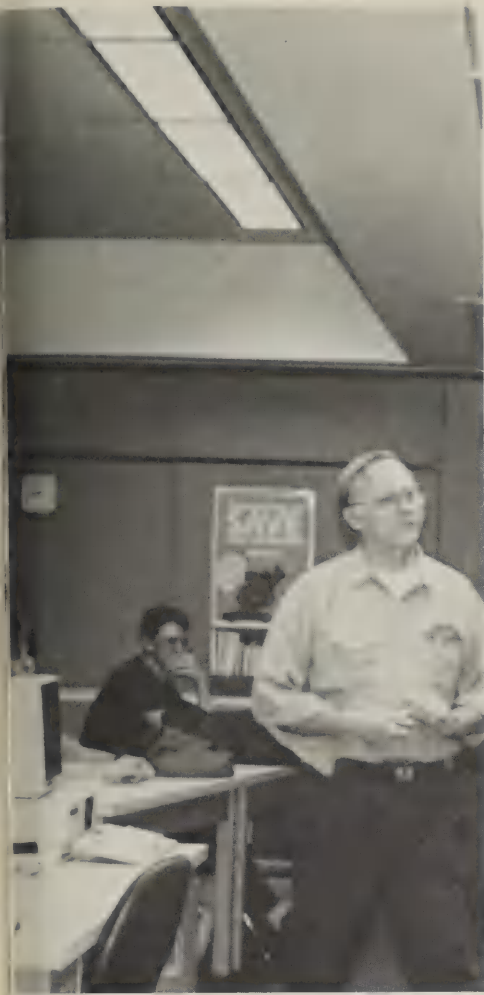

Christine Nelson shows the class how the geometry problem should be done.

Mr. Craig's math class seems to be working hard to pass their test. Those who have studied usually find these tests not so hard to pass, but those who didn't study ... well.

Mr. Caldwell teaches his class about the computers.

Compute!

Math classes are an important part of the student's high school education. Some of the math classes offered at Liberty are as follows: regular math, algebra, geometry, consumer math, trig, calculus, and analysis. The students in some of the math classes compete in a trig competition.

Computer science is a class which gives the students an opportunity to learn how to use the computer. You are taught different programs and how to run them. This class may be fun as well as just work.

Melissa Hilton works on her computer skills during class which is never long enough.

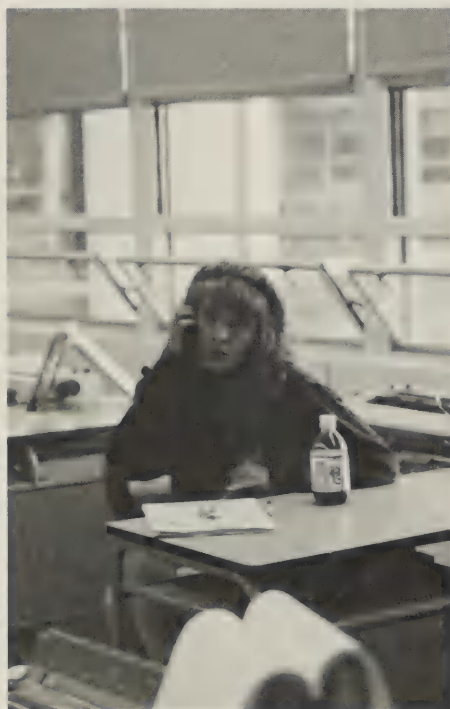

Chris Gills and Shelley Craig are taking the trig test.

Landon Carter and Lesley Key are just a few of the students learning how to operate a computer.

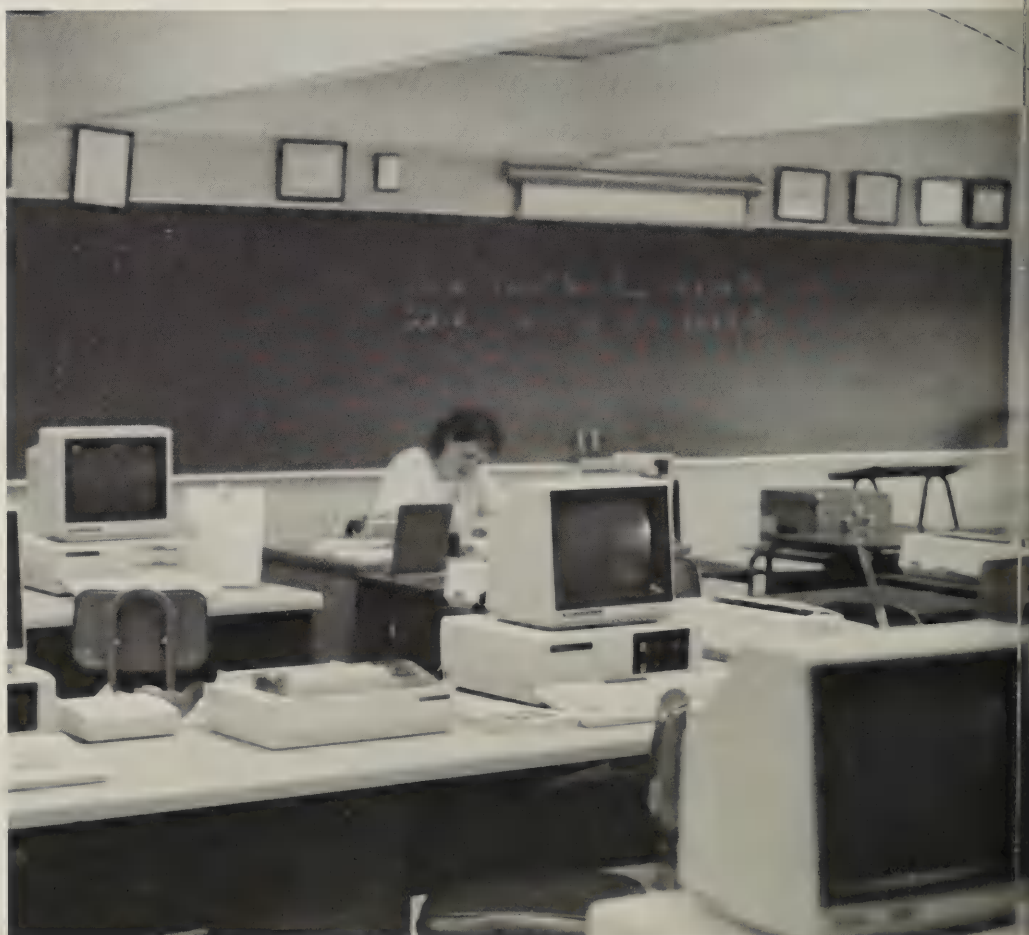

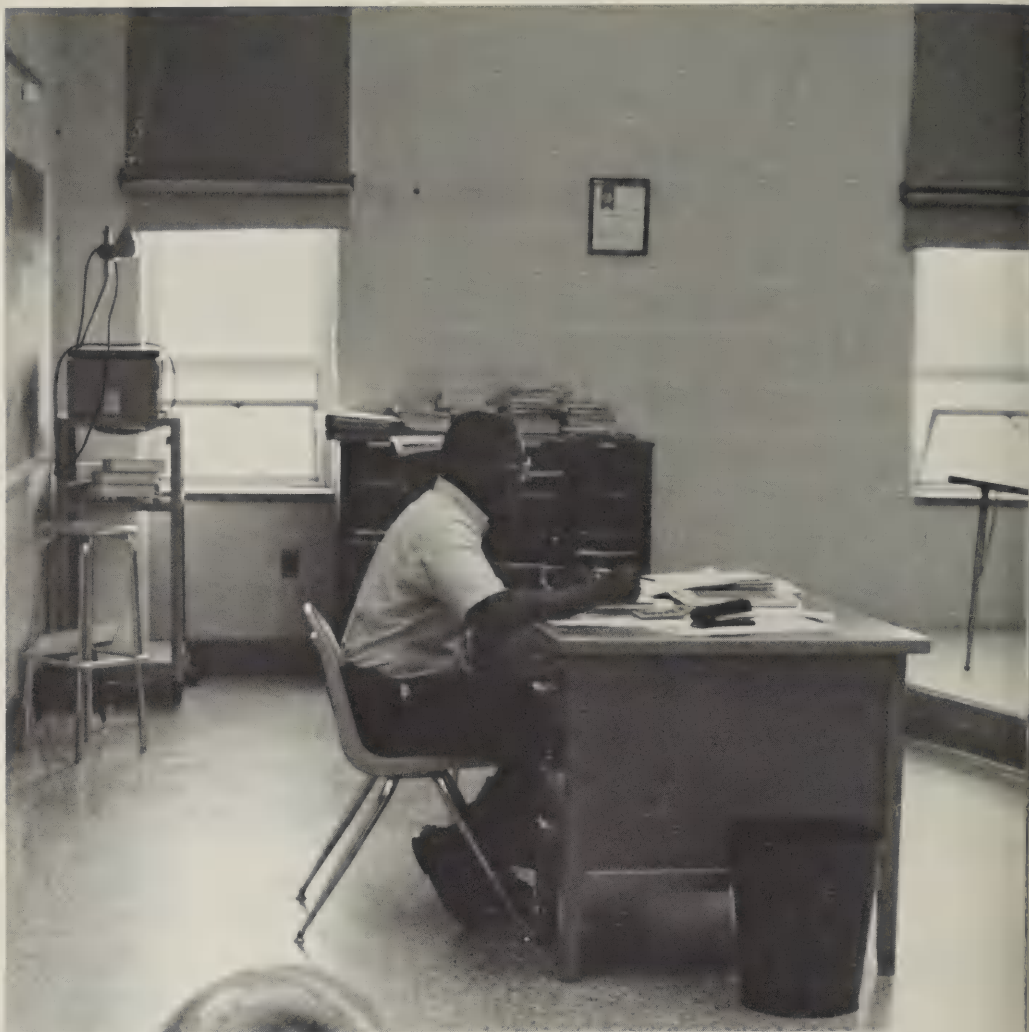

Mr. Kelso is trying to teach his students a little something about marketing. I wonder if it is working?

Valerie Agee and Calvin Bragg look like the business type, don't they?

Now Melissa, This is typing class. Shouldn't you be typing or something like that? Don't look at me like you don't know what I'm talking about.

Mrs. Baron is surrounded by an unoccupied computer class. It isn't that bad is it? Maybe everyone just stepped out for a moment.

Chrisman Hardy acts with all his might as Mrs. Dibble's English class acts out "Julius Caesar."

English

If you feel like you're going to cry if you have to learn another part of speech, read another story, or act out another play? Even though it seems like most of the people on this earth don't like English, it's something we will always need. It's not all that bad either. Sometimes it can even be fun. Ms. Dibble's English class proves this as they take time to dress up and act out "Julius Caesar," but afterwards it's back to the books.

Brenda Lowry struts her stuff. After all, she's all dressed up with no place to go except English.

Ms. Dibble, Melissa Stafford, and Chrisman Hardy all seem to be having a blast as they get down to the enactment of "Julius Caesar." What's that silly grin for, Ms. Dibble?

Nicole Keltz is laid back, while Christy Wood peeks at the camera.

Angela Dooley studies hard to be her best as a hairdresser.

Toni Johnson and Tonya McGuire seem to be amused as their picture is taken, and as they practice on their mannequins

Bonnie Turley appears interested in the classroom discussion at B.E.G.

Nursing

One of the very special classes at B.E.C. is nursing. The students get a sense of what caring and love is all about. Nursing classes provide a wide range of learning experiences from books and observations, to on the job training. For students with courage and strong hope for life, nursing gives them the opportunity to serve and help people at their greatest time of need.

Miss Waldron gives her students more work to do at their desks as she fills up the board.

Keisha Davis is enjoying her time to socialize just by taking the option to get a few winks of sleep.

It looks like these classmates are working hard in the library on one of many school papers. The traditional card catalogue and periodical guide are still used.

Culture

Both history and foreign language classes teach the students about things that are now happening or have been happening in other countries.

History lets the student explore the adventures of those who have made this land what it is today. The students learn that there is much to be thankful for from the people from the past as well as much to regret. Often the students are more amazed than anything else at what people from the past had to do to merely survive through everyday life.

Foreign language teaches students how others communicate as different people from different cultures. The students learn the languages of these people as well as a great deal about their cultures. Going to class everyday can become a time to visit interesting places in interesting parts of the world. As the world in which we live becomes more and more interdependent, our ability to accept and understand those who are different becomes crucial. We do learn from history and foreigners become less foreign.

Heather Hylton looks like she is more interested in the photographer than in learning.

Mrs. Goff looks busy while she plans to give more work to her class.

Todd Hunziker is trying to pay attention but can't resist turning to talk to Jeff Reynolds.

Mr. Falls seems to enjoy the paper he has bought from the "Sentinel" staff at Liberty High School.

News!

The "Sentinel" is Liberty High School's school newspaper. It is sold every other month to the students of Liberty.

The reporters, Sean Dooley, Sarah Monroe, Angela Hammack, and Mary Thomas try to keep up with all the happenings at Liberty. The rest of the staff includes editor-in-chief Amanda Givens, assistant editor Dawn Cherebin, and the advisor, Mr. James Mitchell. Year after year the "Sentinel" has been an award winner, and this year was no exception.

Joey Goles has found something interesting in the paper.

Donnie Holdren was made to sit in the corner because he wanted to read his "Sentinel."

Dawn Cherebin really enjoys selling the "Sentinel" to everyone!

Byron Smith, Stacy Bowman, and Amy Miller are having a good time showing off for the camera.

The yearbook staff has worked really hard to make this yearbook perfect. The staff is made up of mostly beginners. Only one is back for the second year, and that is senior Shirley Crouch. She is editor-in-chief.

The staff tried hard to get all of the happenings around Liberty and with Liberty's students. The staff made this yearbook in honor of celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary.

Mr. Lavor, the yearbook staff advisor, has put forward a big effort to make this yearbook perfect also. Many nights he sat up making corrections and typing it into the computer before the deadlines. Everyone put forth a lot of effort.

Fisher and Shirley Crouch are in a hurry to leave after working hard on the yearbook.

Tracy Howell looks like she is afraid she is caught doing something wrong.

Sheila Porter and Katrina Jones are ending the day at B.E.C.

Drawing

This class helps you with your drawing skills. It helps you draw certain signs without making the letters crooked, and it helps you draw anything with lots of detail.

Most people that take this class really enjoy drawing things and making up new ideas. This class has a lot to offer young, interested drawers.

Scott Witt looks like he cannot figure out how to use the ruler in his hand.

Change a Tire or Two

Brian Nelson looks like he knows what he is doing in his auto body class at B. E. C.

Many people enjoy taking this class. Most of the people in this class are boys, although occasionally there are some girls. This is a great class to take because you may be stranded on the side of the road and there is no one there to help you no one will stop.

This class is inter-locked with auto body. Auto body teaches you how to remodel a car that has been in an accident. It also teaches you how to paint and fix up old cars that need a lot of work done to them.

son Toms can't seem to figure out what in the world is wrong with that car.

Ed Lavoie takes time out from washing a bucket to take a picture

Richard Toms looks like he has had a rough day at B. E. C. in his auto body class.

Affection and Caring

In child care class at B. E. C., students learn how to care for and show affection for children. In class, the students teach children from ages four to six years old. They learn how to manage a child and take good care of him. This child care class prepares the student for adulthood and family obligations. Some of the students also choose to turn this training into a job at a day care center.

Lisa Dooley, Loretta Stanley, Karen Sipes, and Alysia Wilson are busy discussing their plans as they wait for the children.

Dalerie Brown and Lisa Dooley stand back and think how great it will be when their own children wash dishes. In the meantime, they have a lot of work to do. Child care is certainly not all fun and games.

Wires and Electricity

Mike Christian enjoys fixing mechanical things. Here, Mike shows his skill by wiring live wires into an electrical motor very carefully.

The electricity class at B. E. C. offers a great experience to many young adults. In class, students learn to work with electricity and wiring. This class will help these students become more self-sufficient in their own homes. Whether it is a problem with the stereo, the toaster, or the wiring of the light switch on the wall, being able to fix it themselves will save these future homeowners a lot of money.

Dewayne Nichols is busy hammering away at the wall in his electricity class.

Jeff Orange attempts to hide his smiles.

Perry Herron concentrates diligently at wiring an electrical socket which comes easily to him from his previous experience and knowledge from his electricity class.

Celebrating

Advertising

Amy Hutson, Carolyn Graun, Kim Heptinstall, Jenny Slusher, Byron Smith, Katrina Jones, Shirley Grouch, Kirk Fisher, Leigh Brafford, Tracy Brotherton, Stacy Bowman, Amy Miller, Jackie Dawson, Angie Isenhour, Malinda Reeves, Diana Wingfield, and Trista Johnson also prefer outdoors to the classroom.

GET BACK... Like most eighth graders, Douglas Galhoun, Roger Fuqua, Carl Tolley, William Turpin, Jessie McFalls, Stephen Spices, Mike Huddleston, and George Sexton, joined by their teacher, prefer outdoors to the classroom.

Well, We'll...

On a cold winter day, a serene picture of the Peaks makes us realize that as the seasons change, so do our lives.

See Ya!

The years seem to come and go faster and faster as each one passes by. Sooner or later everyone will have to graduate and go on to whatever the unpredictable future holds. Sooner than you think, high school will be a closed chapter in the book of life. It's up to you whether that chapter is good or bad. You can never go back to live something over. So live life to its best, and have good memories to think about later.

Joel Raintree seems to be happy leaving Liberty for the day.

Pete Caldwell, Lottie Grouch, and Carolyn Karnes try to plead their case with Mr. Larocca.

Colophon

The 25th anniversary edition of the yearbook was published by Hunter Publishing Company of Winston-Salem, North Carolina. This volume had a press run of 500 copies with 200 pages. Endsheets were white vellum or tinted all 65 # cover weight. There are two plates and 16 glossy pages. Styles of headlines, body copy, and captions are as follows: headlines: Linotext # 50, 36 pt. body copy: first letter, Linotext # 50, 36 pt., inset into the body copy, Times Italic # 15, 10 pt. ; captions: Charleston # 74, 8 pt. The staff would like to thank the following people for their contributions: James Mitchell, Arnold Ward, Charlie Garrison, and Mr. Lator.

The following are members of the Heritage staff: editor-in-chief Shirley Crouch, Kirk Fisher, Tracy Howell, Tracy Brotherton, Carolyn Craun, Byron Smith, Jenny Slusher, Amy Hutson, Kim Heptinstall, Julie Arrington, Alysia Barrett, Heather Hubbard, Melinda Reaves, Diana Wingfield, Amy Lindon, Angie Isenhour, Stacy Bowman, Trista Johnson, Amy Miller, Jackie Dawson, Leigh Brafford, Katrina Jones, and Crystal Guilliams.

Sean Dooley is leaving Liberty. He is saying goodbye to the school for the last time.

It seems sad to see Brian Baker wave bye to all his fellow classmates, for it is the last day at school.

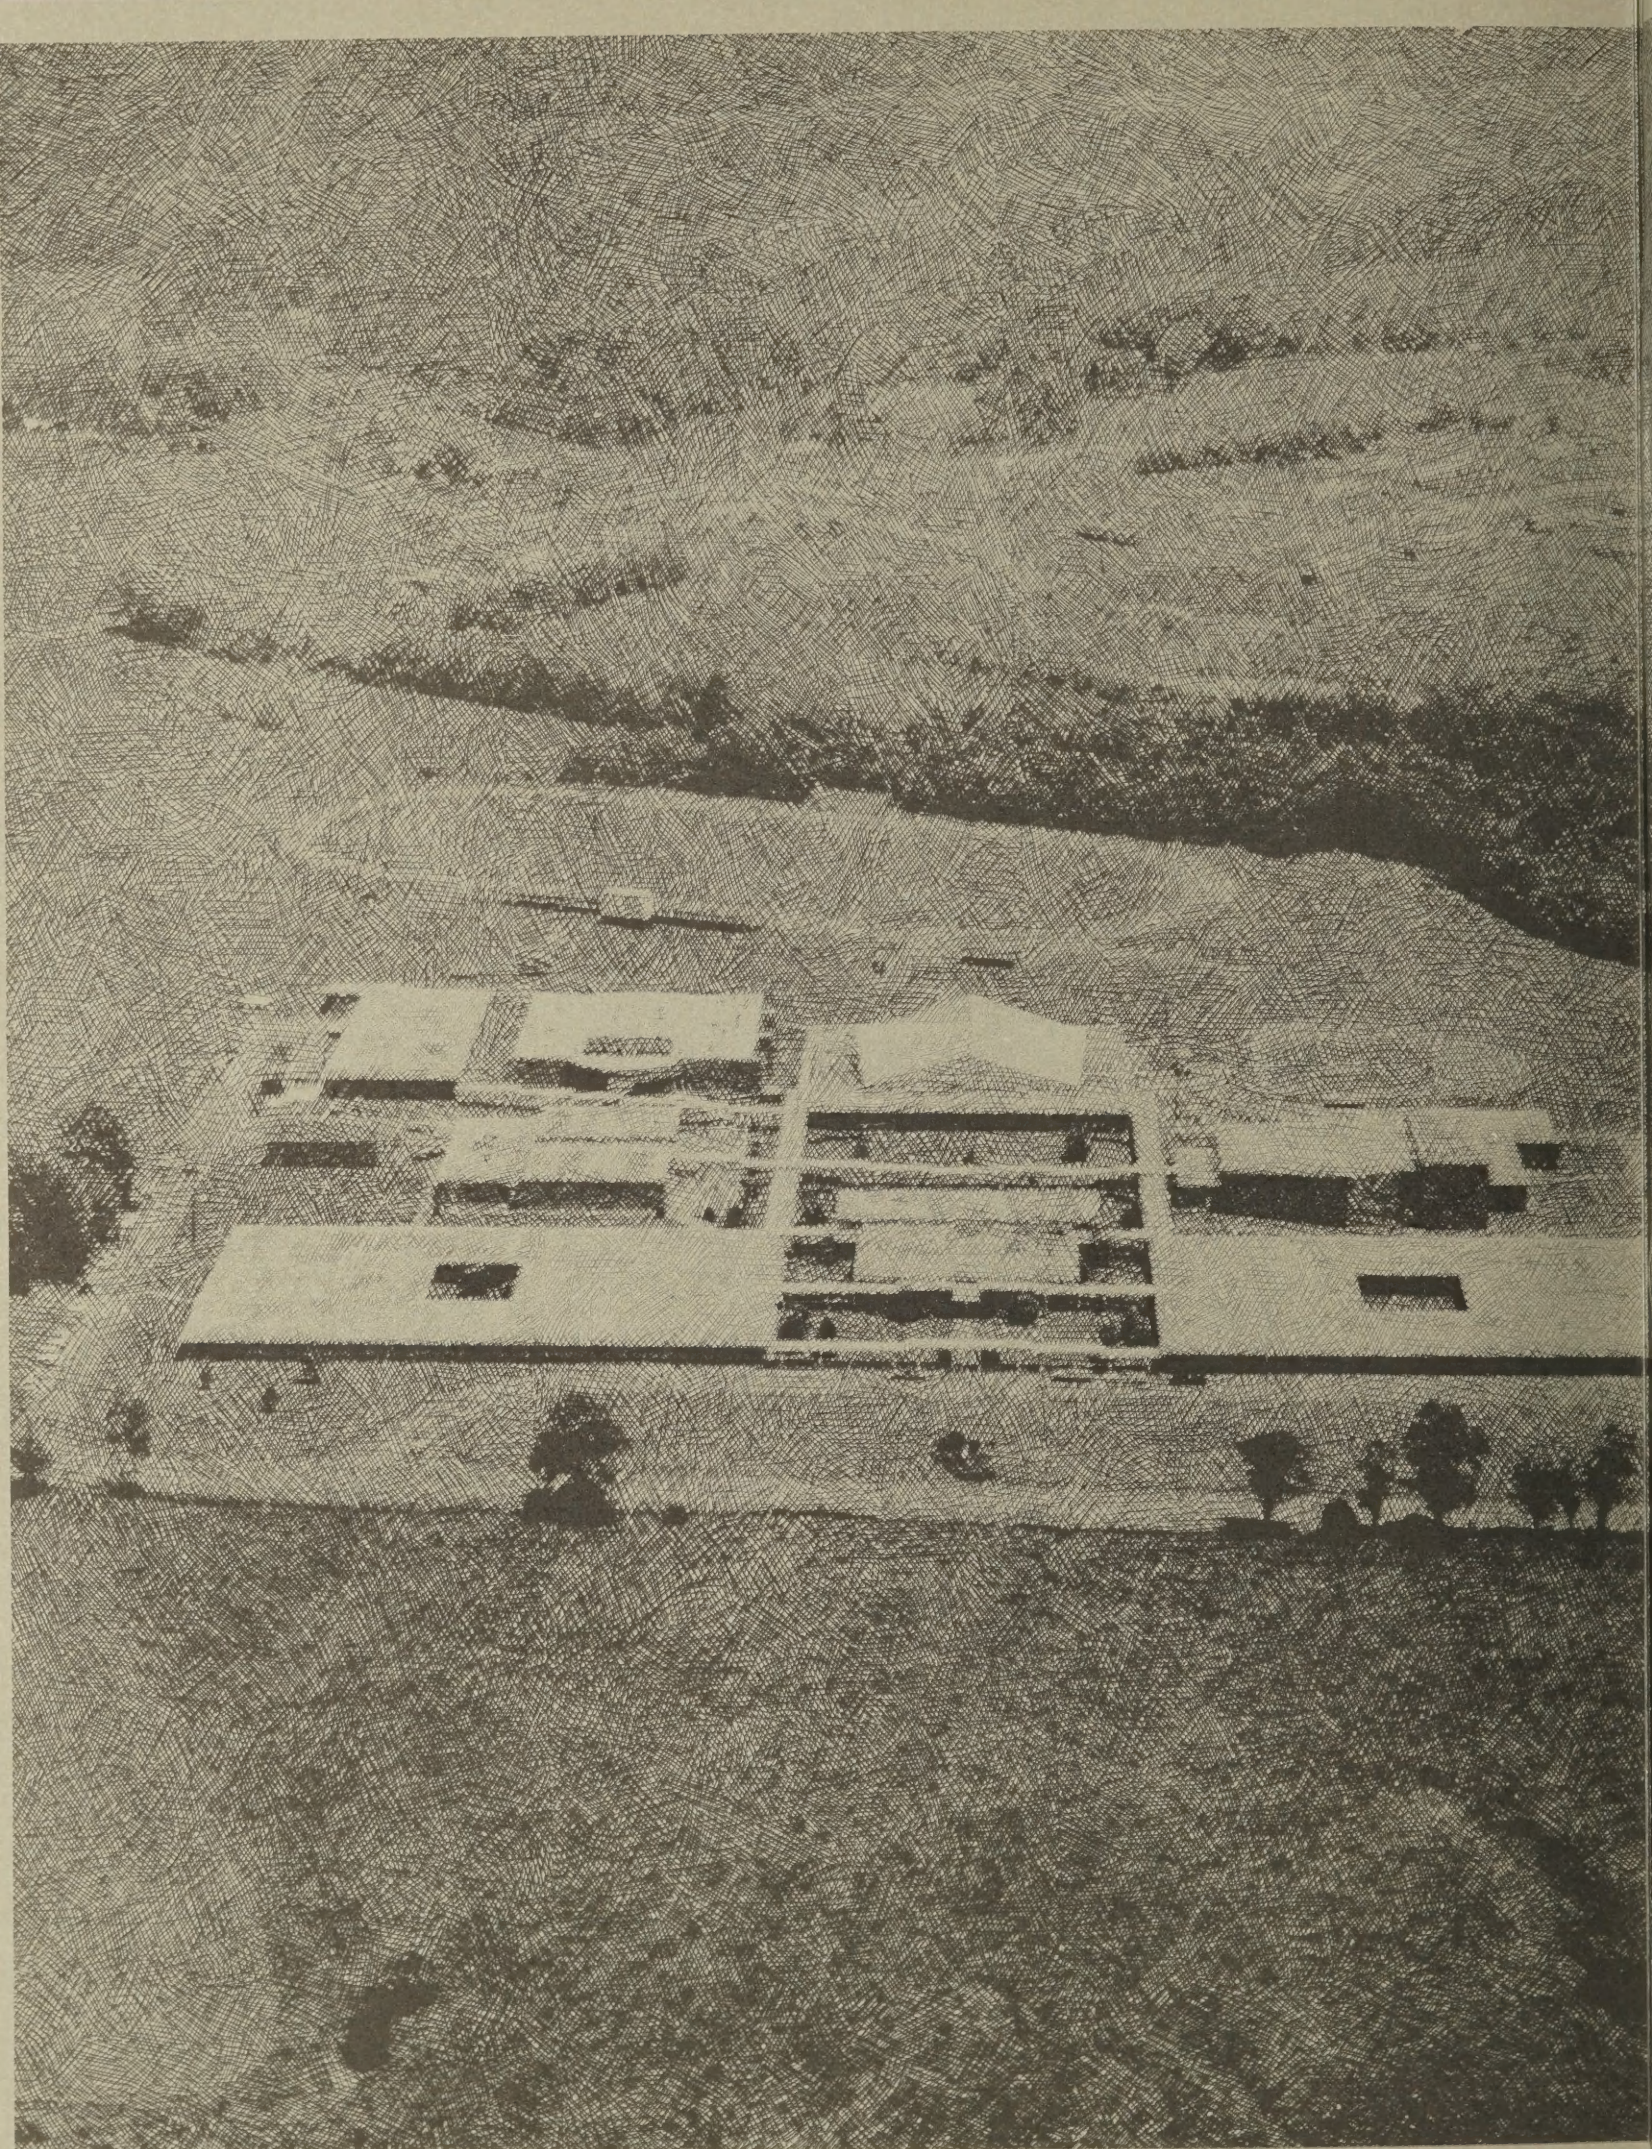

Tonya Zinn walks out of that classroom for the last time.
